U. S. CAVALRY READY TO CROSS

Stolen Cattle Must be Returned by Mexicans or Troops Will Go Into Mexico and Get Them and the Thieves.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

El Paso, Tex., July 24.—American cavalrymen hurried to the border opposite Guadaloupe, 60 miles southeast of here today, awaited orders that would send them into Mexico on a punitive expedition that would deal out justice with the swiftness of Major Langhorne's forces.

In the hands of the Carranza commander at Guadaloupe, served with an ultimatum by General George Bell, Jr., rested the possibility that the ostentatiously cordial relations between the United States and Mexico would be thrown into a jumble once more.

By sunset today the commandante was ordered to return a herd of cattle run off the Reynolds ranch on the American side by Mexican outlaws. If the cattle are not returned by this time General Bell is ready to give the command that will send the American soldiers over the border

According to reports from the Reynolds ranch, which is just opposite Guadaloupe, the raiders were Carranzista soldiers. They made a swift raid, held the American rancher and his men back with rifles, and rode off with the stock. They paraded the cattle through the streets, proclaiming their prowess as raiders and boasting of victory over the Americans. Reynolds said that the Carranzista garrison made no effort to check this display or apprehend the thieves.

It was upon hearing this that General Bell sent his ultimatum to the Carranza commandante. Two troops of American cavalry stationed at Fabens, 28 miles southeast of here, were immediately ordered in readiness to move on Guadaloupe.

Outside of the situation across from Guadaloupe, the most significant news of the day was the report that General Jacinto Trevino, boasted instigator of the Carrizal battle, had been deposed as military governor at Chihuahua City. This was especially important because a short time ago Trevino defied Minister of War Obregon in an earlier effort to oust him. It was believed that Trevino was allied with the new Legalista party of Mexico.

Of equal importance with the news of Trevino's recall is the report that General Luis Herrera, the "Gringo Hater," would succeed him. A fortnight ago Trevino threatened to have Herrera arrested for cowardice in running away from a battle with Villista forces at Parral Herrera's hatred of the Americans is known throughout Mexico. His father is Jose Herrera, mayor of Parral at the time when American troops were ambushed in that town. His brother was killed during the fighting at that time.

Herrera at the time was supposed to have revolted against Carranza rule rather than be attached to an army which had promised to cooperate with the American punitive expedition. He did everything in his power to hamper the Pershing forces. In some mysterious way Villa slipped through Herrera's lines at will. This is shown in Pershing's reports to Funston

"Pancho" Villa still is active along the Durango state line. Carranzista officials say that his force was defeated and that Villa himself is fleeing. Other stories reaching the border declare that Villa is gaining strength.

Whatever Villa is doing, the Carranza government has apparently adopted a new policy within the past week. It has announced that bull fighting, which was forbidden in one of Carranza's first decrees, will be resumed at Juarez next Sunday.

SEEK BOMB PLANTER.

San Francisco Police in Search of Anarchist Who Killed Six.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

San Francisco, July 24.—Spurred by offers of large rewards, local police and scores of private investigators doubled their efforts today to find the anarchistic fiend who planted a bomb along the route of the preparedness parade here Saturday, killing six persons and injuring scores.

The city of San Francisco has offered a reward of $5,000 and the state will probably announce a similar offer today. Several individuals have offered lesser amounts. The whole city and state is aroused by the crime.

So far the police admit they have made little progress. They have several clews which may or may not be of value. One person has been found who says he saw the man place the suit case. He is William Taylor, an aged cripple. He told the police the man was about 35 years old and shabbily dressed.

Soldier Has Appendicitis.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

Albany, July 24.—Henry Miller, a private of Company D, Tenth Infantry, now stationed at Camp Whitman, Green Haven, was operated on this morning for appedicitis at a local hospital. Miller came to this city yesterday afternoon to see his mother, who was ill in one of the local hospitals. He spent a few hours with her, and when he was about to take a train for Camp Whitman was taken ill.

NEARLY 3,000 PARALYSIS CASES

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

New York, July 24.—Infantile paralysis cases in Greater New York almost reached the 3,000 mark today. The new cases reported during the 24 hours ending at 10 a. m. numbered 89, making a grand total of 2,948. Today's list contained 26 less names than yesterday's, but this was attributed to the fact that epidemic cases reported on Mondays and Tuesdays generally show a decrease.

The additional deaths reported number 31, as compared with 23 yesterday. Deaths increased in three of the five boroughs and showed a decrease of only one in each of the other two. The total of deaths to date is 609, the rate continuing to hold above 20 per cent.

Quarantine regulations by suburban towns against New York's little ones are increasing in severity. It was estimated that fully 100,000 little ones who would otherwise have enjoyed fresh country air on Sunday were compelled to stay in the city's stifling heat. Hundreds of families that tried to leave the city for a Sabbath outing were turned back.

Health department clinics for private physicians will be opened at various points in the city tonight. All the information that the department has secured will be placed at the disposals of the physicians to aid them in combating the plague.

STATE ROAD NOTE AND COMMENT

A state road engineer interviewed by a Freeman reporter gave a number of useful points on state road matters worth remembering.

"There is a large amount of work to do this year on the old water bound macadam roads, because of last winter's deep frost breaking the surface and the excessive rains of spring and summer have added to the damage, by washing holes in the damaged surface.

"Most repairs are being made with bituminous macadam, because that seems to be the best wearing, up to date road bed. You can not build a bituminous macadam road and have autos running over it [illegible] construction. To make a perfect job, the stone must be rolled in a solid compact mass, which has its interstices then filled with asphalt at a temperature of 500 degrees and at a pressure of 200 pounds. If this is done when the temperature of the stone is above 50 degrees, and dry, a wearing surface is formed, that will not dust up and is impervious to moisture.

"The state road department has a reliable engineer on every contract and is now seeing that all construction is properly done.

"Every contractor is working under orders of the engineer in charge and when he says it's too cold or too wet to pour asphalt or lay stone, the contractor stops work till the weather conditions are right.

"No contractor works a day or an hour longer on a job than the state requires him to, and roads are closed only because it is absolutely necessary. On the Kingston to Saugerties state road there are from 500 to 1,500 vehicles passing in a day. Each in passing stops all work for at least one minute. Five hundred minutes out of a day's work, leaves very little of the time for construction work to be done.

"Those who complain most about bad condition of the roads are the ones most insistent on their right to interrupt the repair work. Next the nasty, hang around garage chauffeurs, who never find a road closed but they insist on opening it and if there is any construction work unfinished, destroy it if they can possibly do so. One contractor who had been constantly bothered by this worthless pest said, 'They seem to be headed for Hades and very anxious to get there on time with cut out open.' When the fact is they are going nowhere, and their only business is to beg and nurse on a cigarette.

"Judging from the fact that nine out of ten autoists pass 'detour' signs without paying any attention to their information automobile drivers can not read. Also not one out of ten drivers know the right way to turn a machine around in the road. 'Read instructions on detour signs,' they give plain directions as to the best way to get to points beyond the roads under construction, and if you have to turn on a narrow roadway, head into the ditch and back around. 'An automobile is not a horse, it will back around better than pull ahead, and the rear wheels are usually left on the hard road where they will not slip.' The road from Kingston to Saugerties is completed as far as Schoentag's Hotel. The contractors, John F. Gallagher & Co., are to be congratulated. They have built the best piece of road in Ulster county. The public is so well pleased with the new road that every one is using it. The noise of passing autos bars sleep before 1 a. m. to those residing near."

NAVAL BATTLE IN THE NORTH SEA

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

London, July 24.—British naval forces were victorious in a running fight with German destroyers in the North Sea west of the coast of Holland. The scene of the naval engagement was off Schouwen Bank, about 40 miles northwest of Zeebrugge, the German naval base in Belgium.

The official report on the battle issued by the British admiralty today states that the German craft though hit, succeeded in escaping to the Belgian coast.

The Admiralty statement follows: "At midnight Saturday near North Hinder Light some of our light forces sighted three enemy destroyers who retired before any damage was inflicted upon them. Subsequently off Schouwen Bank six enemy destroyers were engaged and in a running fight were repeatedly hit but succeeded in reaching the Belgian coast. On of our vessels was hit once.

"An officer and man were slightly wounded. There was no other damage or casualty."

This is the first that German naval forces have shown any activity since the Jutland battle. It is probable that the Tenton vessels engaged and driven from the sea were a flotilla sent out from Zeebrugge to prey upon British shipping.

SEEK TO PUNISH DRIVER OF STAGE

Decision was reserved by Judge Hasbrouck on Saturday on a motion to punish Henry Mauterstock of Saugerties for contempt of court for his alleged disobedience of an injunction granted some time ago in an action brought against him by the New York Central Railroad Company and Clinton Van Buskirk, to restrain him from soliciting the business of transporting passengers arriving on West Shore trains at Saugerties.

The railroad company owns the property where stages, automobiles and wagons wait for trains, and it has a contract with Van Buskirk who pays the company a considerable consideration annually for the privilege of stopping his stages there and soliciting passengers. Affidavits submitted by Louis Shirley, Homer Goodsell and others, on behalf of the railroad company, stated that Mauterstock had repeatedly driven to the depot before train time and solicited passengers, and Van Buskirk claims he has lost $300 in fares since the beginning of the year by reason of Mauterstock's operations.

Corporation Counsel William D. Brinnier of this city, who appeared for Mauterstock, claimed his client had not violated any provision of the injunction order. Shirley, he said, was a detective employed by the railroad compan, who had coaxed Mauterstock to drive him to the Exchange Hotel in order to furnish evidence against him, and other passengers he had met had been received under contract with boarding house keepers who paid him to meet trains on days when they were expecting boarders. In fact, said Mr. Brinnier, Mauterstock always advised intending passengers that it would be cheaper for them to ride with Van Buskirk, who charged only ten cents for stage fare.

Amos Van Etten, who appeared for the railroad company and Van Buskirk, asked Mr. Brinnier and Mauterstock to explain why the latter came to the depot every day to meet trains when it was well known that summer boarders for the houses he had mentioned did not arrive daily, but the boarding house keepers knew what trains they would arrive on.

Judge Hasbrouck took the papers and reserved decision.

BRITISH BOYCOTT LEAST OFFENSE

Tampering With Mail and Using Trade Secrets Thus Obtained Seems Far More Serious and Damaging.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

Washington, July 24.—Great Britain's defense of her mail seizures in the cases of the MacNiff Horticultural Company of New York and the Standard Underground Cable Company of Pittsburgh, coming on top of the publication of the boycott list directed against American firms has aroused bitter feeling against Great Britain's attitude in administration circles. There will be no reply to the mail note which was received yesterday. Instead Ambassador Page again will be instructed to press for a complete reply to the original protest covering the entire question of mail delay and also for the facts regarding the boycott list already demanded by him.

Meanwhile the state department is continuing its investigation of all the facts regarding the boycott. The various American firms against whom the British action is directed have perfected an organization. A committee representing them already has arranged to lay their side of the case before Acting Secretary of State Polk as soon as possible. It will be used to complete the American protest although it is not expected that the latter will be forwarded to London for several days.

Present plans are to consider both problems—the boycot and the mail situation—at tomorrow's cabinet meeting. Secretary Polk will lay before the president all of the facts so far ascertained by his department. Attorney General Gregory will report on the investigations made by its special agents who have been looking into the manner in which the boycott is being enforced against those American firms that confine their exports to the far east and South America.

The British ambassador Sir Cecil Spring-Rice, already has made it plain to the state department that the general position of his government will be that it has a perfect right to lay the present boycott. He contends that the matter is one of internal concern entirely inasmuch as his government claims that the various firms included in its list have tried to do business through British firms along lines that are particularly helpful to German finance. This, the United States is prepared to deny, but the state department will be unable to do so until all the facts regarding the boycott are received from the various firms affected.

Meanwhile it is becoming increasingly evident that it will be impossible to separate the boycott and mails controversies. Officials said today that the declaration in the British mail note of Saturday that "His Majesty's government is astonished" at the insinuation that the holding up of the mail of the Underground Cable Company was directly connected with the fact that a British competitor had obtained a contract for which that company had bid was amusing in the extreme.

It was recalled that former Representative Herman Metz of New York long ago placed before the state department evidence that British contractors had benefited by letters seized in transit and that there are many additional complaints of that nature now before the United States government. It is considered likely that when the complete British note reaches Washington there will be some very sharp statements included in the American reioinder.

Officials declared today that the present international situation is "filled with dynamite" so far as the relations of this government with all of the European belligerents are concerned.

COMPANY M FULLY EQUIPPED

Clothing Issued at Last to Men of the Tenth—Field Problem Worked Out With Governor as Spectator.

(Delayed in transmission).

Camp Whitman, N. Y., July 21.—(Special).—Yesterday, we received an issue of clothing, which included trousers, shirts, hats, blouses and rubber ponchos, and today we received new shoes. This makes the outfits of the company practically complete

Thursday, July 20th., Governor Whitman visited the camp, and the First, Tenth and Sixty-Fifth Regiments lined up on the side of the road, as the governor passed in review.

In the the afternoon, the Tenth Regiment gave a field problem, and the Third Battalion, Major Dooley commanding, Captain Meagher, Chief of Staff, and Lieutenant Cashin, Chief of Information Bureau, defended the camp from attack by First and Second Battalions under Lieutenant Colonel Saulpaugh.

Two battalions, under Lieutenant Colonel Saulpaugh, moved out, and Major Dooley's troops went into the trenches, which had been dug by his battalion a few days before.

Lieutenant Cashin established three signal stations, and with Private Ludlow of Company M, his chief signal man, was able to keep in touch with the outpost's positions, and by the semaphore signals being sent back in rear of the defensive line we were able to have advance information in location of the troops of the attacking forces.

The trenches of the defensive position were located in such a manner as to make it impractical for a frontal attack, so the main attack was made from the left flank, with a secondary attack along the front. One platoon, the machine gun, was able to annihilate two companies which were sent to join the attack on the left flank. This made the secondary attack become the main attack, which was repulsed with heavy losses. The attacking forces made their deployment in excellent shape, and as the successive skirmish lines moved over the irregular country, it made a very impressive sight.

The topography of the country was such the attacking party was able to reach within about 600 yards of the trenches, when the similating fire of the defensive position, which was strong, checked them, and company after company were ruled out by the umpires as being totally destroyed and not able to advance

One section of the attacking party came up through a small ravine, and misunderstanding a signal, gave the command to charge in the face of a very heavy fire. Three companies of that charge were ruled out, suffering very heavy losses.

The governor apparently seemed to be very much interested in the war game, and took an active interest in the proceedings of the afternoon.

Friday, July 21st., a regimental review was given in honor of General Eddy and staff. Adjutant General Stotesbury and Mrs. Stotesbury, and Mrs. Cornelius Vanderbilt. The regiment, and particularly Company M, put up a fine appearance, owing to the continual training they have been put through, and the reviews passed without practically any errors, and great steadiness was noticed throughout the ranks.

DEUTSCHLAND DELAY KEEPS GOSSIPS BUSY

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

Baltimore, Md., July 24.—Delay in the sailing of the German supersubmarine Deutschland on her return voyage across the Atlantic may ultimately force the interment of the big submarine in Baltimore until the end of the European war. Despite all predictions the Deutschland still remained in her barricaded dock completely surrounded by mystery.

She had been in port just two weeks and she was just as closely and comfortably housed as at any time since her arrival. Captain Koenig and officials of the submarine line today stood by previous declarations that the Deutschland would leave when her sister ship, the Bremen, makes an American port. Grave anxiety as to the fate of the Bremen has been apparent in Baltimore for several days, and if it develops that she has fallen foul of allied warships, or has been lost at sea, the Deutschland may be interned to save her from a similar fate.

The snug nest of the Deutschland off Locust Point today bred misinformation faster than the black waters around her breed mosquitoes At the cost of a few minutes of conversation you may pick of the latest plain and fancy tales, theories and ordinary lies. Every policeman, watchman, longshoreman and water front tramp has acquired a "hist' that would turn a blood and thunder villain a ripe, rich green. Any tall, dark man with a fair growth of whiskers and a husky whisper is perfectly at home near the Deutschland. If he can lead you aside by a mysterious gesture, and corner you behind a convenient pile driver or in the dark, damp, recesses under a nearby dock, he will impart to your astonished ears any one of some two dozen bits of "inside information," of which the following are samples:

A British motor boat armed with a 3-inch gun is waiting for the Deutschland just around the corner and the submarine will be blown out of the water as soon as she leaves her dock.

Bombs have been planted all about the Deutschland dock, and they will automatically blow half of Baltimore harbor into Kingdom Come if the submarine moves twenty feet.

The Deutschland has already gone, and a carefully rigged up dummy is in her place. Captain Hinsch, port captain for the submarine line, took her out, with a crew smuggled aboard in the night, while Captain Koenig and his crew remain behind to keep up the deception.

The Deutschland has been rebuilt and is now a first class fighting craft, armed with torpedo tubes. She will sally out to the capes and blow the waiting allied cruisers out of the water.

The Bremen has arrived, and the Deutschland has left having transferred her crew to the new submarine, which has taken the Deutschland's place at the dock.

But the real prize drove neutral newspaper men to a fine frenzy in the small gray hours this morning. When they put into the mud wharf alongside the Deutschland after fighting the deep sea mosquitoes of the harbor and tug Timmins's searchlight all night, and moored their tugs they were confronted by a frantic longshoreman with a frantic tale. He had it straight "a fellow on the inside" told him. During the night a British spy had crept into the Deutschland's berth and with an electric drill had bored a dozen holes in the double hull of the submarine She sank in thirty feet of water with Captain Koenig and most of the crew on board. But the reporters who had kept the sea green hull of the Deutschland under their glasses through the long night, only shook their heads sadly at the tragic tale It failed to produce any excitement. One ungrateful wretch with a face that evidenced smallpox, but was only a tribute to the harbor mosquitoes, even cursed softly as he turned away.

Old Man Mystery and the father of lies certainly have extensive families in Baltimore these days.

Inside information that seemed a little more reliable than the general gossip today pointed to the shipment of a considerable sum of gold on the Deutschland. The amount was fixed anywhere from $100,000 to $4,000,000 and it was reported already aboard the submarine. Sailing was delayed, according to the story, by the efforts so far unsuccessful, to secure a reasonable insurance rate on the gold shipment.

Captain Koenig has been in port two weeks today and the time that his wireless could be allowed operative under the neutrality lines as construed here, was up. Unless the Deutschland gets away today it was expected that the port officials would seal the wireless instruments.

Bremen Reported Missing.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

London, July 24.—The German merchant submarine Bremen, a sister ship to the Deutschland, is missing at sea, according to a Rome wireless despatch today. Upon her failure to return to port the Germans sent another vessel to look for it.

CUT HIS THROAT WITH A RAZOR

John W. Dietz, 77 years old, a veteran of the Civil War, committed suicide by cutting his throat with a razor at an early hour this morning at his home in Rosendale. He lived alone in a small one room house near the railroad station, and had resided there for many years. He received a pension from the government which aided him in supporting himself.

Early this morning a neighbor passing the house happened to glance in through the open window and saw Dietz's body on the floor. He immediately notified Dr. C. V. Hasbrouck, who after an examination of the body called up Coroner E. A. Kelly, who made a hasty trip to Rosendale. After viewing the remains the body was turned over to Undertaker John McCabe of that village.

Dietz when found lay on the floor near the bureau. When he arose this morning he had evidently nerved himself to take his life, for he had used the razor twice, slashing his throat in two places. He then walked to the bureau and laid on it the bloody razor, and turning to retrace his steps was overcome by the loss of blood and toppled to the floor.

Mr Dietz was a widower and Coroner Kelly said today that he understood that there was a son living. As far as known no immediate relatives resided in the vicinity of the Dietz home.

FRENCH AVIATOR CROSSES GERMANY

After Dropping Proclamations on Berlin he is Forced to Land in Poland and is Taken Prisoner.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

Paris, July 24.—A French army aviator has flown across German dropping proclamations on the city of Berlin.

News of this world-astonishing flight was given out officially today.

The airman, Sub Lieut. A. Marchal, was compelled to land within sixty miles of the Russian lines, near Cholm, in Poland, where he was made a prisoner by the Austrians.

In the course of his long flight the official announcement says, Aviator Marchal covered about 1,300 kilometres, or approximately 806 miles in straight line.

This was the first time the eastern and western fronts have been linked by air but the real object of the flight was to show Germany that the Allies were able to bombard Berlin but refrained from doing so for humanitarian reasons.

The following is the report on the trans-German flight:

"On June 20 at 9:30 o'clock in the evening Sub-Lieut. A. Marchal left Nancy, France, in a Nieuport monoplane of special type, taking with him provisions and oil for 14 hours, his mission being to traverse all of Germany at a moderate altitude and to drop proclamations on Berlin, afterward continuing to Russia. This audacious raid was accomplished point by point.

"His mission accomplished, unfortunately the French airmen, after having flown all night was forced to land near Cholm, in Poland at 8:30 on the morning of June 21, less than 60 miles from the Russian lines. He was made a prisoner.

"The proclamation which the sub-lieutenant threw down on Berlin commenced with words:

"We might have bombarded the open city of Berlin, killing women as well as innocent children, but we content ourselves with throwing down the following:"

Aviator Marchal, who is interned at Salzerbach, sent a postal card which gives us these details:

"I was made prisoner at 8:30 a. m. June 21 at Cholm. The Austrian officers would not believe me when I told them what I had done, but my arrival proved it. They were forced to yield before the reality.

"It was a defective spark plug that stopped me. I had descended and replaced the spark plug and again set my motor running. Unfortunately it was necessary to change two others. I was captured at that moment. Imagine my chagrin."

STREET GOSSIP ABOUT TOWN

"What's the time of day" asked the friend of the street corner politician as they met.

"Sorry, but the main spring of my watch broke this morning, and I left it at the watchmaker's for repairs" replied the politician. He continued "It was all right early this morning when I left for work, but a few hours later when I pulled the watch out of my pocket to see what time it was the watch had stopped.

"What was the trouble?" queried the friend.

"I don't know, but the watchmaker told me that a change of weather causes more main springs to break than anything else. He told me a yarn how a few years ago he had just finished winding up the watches in his repair case, and had sat down to go to work when a big electrical storm broke over the city, and out of the twenty-five watches in the show case eleven had broken main springs.

"I see by the newspapers" said the friend "that several hundred insurance agents have voted for a strike policy."

"Still I predict there will be no shortage in oratory on that account" replied the politician with a smile.

SUGGESTIVE DISHES.

For a simple little cake to serve with a cup of tea, the shortbread enjoyed so much by the Scotch will be worth adding to your cookbooks.

Scotch Shortbread.

Take a cupful of butter, creamed; one-half cupful of cornstarch or arrowroot, one-half cupful of rice flour and two cupfuls of wheat flour with one-half cupful of sugar. Cream the butter, add the sugar, and mix in the flour, kneading it well with the hands until well mixed. Pat it on a board until a fourth of an inch in thickness, and cut with small cutters, pricking well with a fork before baking. Bake in a slow oven.

Walnut Catchup.—When the black walnuts are green and still soft enough to pierce with a needle, pick a hundred. Allow six ounces of small onions, a clove of garlic, two quarts of vinegar, two ounces of anchovies, two ounces of pepper, one-fourth of an ounce of mace, one-half an ounce of cloves. Pound the walnuts in a mortar until well broken, then put them into a jar with the vinegar, onion and garlic, cut fine, with salt to taste. Let stand for two weeks, stirring twice a day. Strain off the liquid, add the rest of the ingredients, and boil 30 minutes. Skim well and strain when cold, and bottle.

Labscash.—Butter a baking dish and fill with alternate layers of sliced raw potatoes and hamburg steak; season with pepper and salt and butter. When the dish is nearly full, pour over one-half cupful of finely chopped onions and one cupful of tomatoes, either cooked or fresh. Then pour over a cupful of sweet cream and set into the oven to bake. This should bake slowly an hour and a half. The tomatoes may be omitted if the combination is not enjoyed.

Mock Guava Jelly.—Wash and soak overnight a pound of home-dried apples. The next morning cook them slowly in the water; then strain through a jelly bag. There should be five cupfuls of juice; add to the boiling hot juice five cupfuls of sugar and one cupful of lemon juice; cook 20 minutes; skim and strain into glasses.

SONG SPARROW

Melospiza melodia

Length, about six and one-fourth inches. The heavily spotted breast with heavy central blotch is characteristic.

Range: Breeds in the United States (except the South Atlantic and gulf states), southern Canada, southern Alaska, and Mexico; winters in Alaska and most of the United States southward.

Habits and economic status: Like the familiar little "chippy," the song sparrow is one of our most domestic species, and builds its nest in hedges or in garden shrubbery close to houses, whenever it is reasonably safe from the house cat, which, however, takes heavy toll of the nestings. It is a true harbinger of spring, and its delightful little song is trilled forth from the top of some green shrub in early March and April, before most of our other songsters have thought of leaving the sunny South. Song sparrows vary much in habits, as well as in size and coloration. Some forms live along streams bordered by deserts, others in timbered regions, others on rocky barren hillsides, and still others in rich, fertile valleys. With such a variety of habitat, the food of the species naturally varies considerably. About three-fourths of its diet consists of the seeds of noxious weeds and one-fourth of insects. Of these, beetles, especially weevils, constitute the major portion. Ants, wasps, bugs (including the black olive scale), and caterpillars are also eaten. Grasshoppers are taken by the eastern birds, but not by the western ones.

Those Mexican Names.

Mexican names that are euphonious in Spanish are awkward when pronounced as in English. The vowels have the same sound as in German. J has the sound of a strongly aspirated H, and H is mute. The double R is rolled, and the double L is followed by the consonant sound of Y. The accent is on the ultimate when the word ends in a consonant, usually on the penultimate when ending in a vowel. Exceptions are indicated by use of the accent mark.

THE NEW WAY TO SPELL ECONOMY—

A cheap piece of machinery, like the boy with a little knowledge, is sometimes a dangerous thing.

Men are buying better and better lawn mowers, and reapers, and printing presses, and gasoline engines and pumps.

Why? Because they find it pays.

Probably there's no better example of this in the case of automobiles than Chalmers cars.

Figures show that over 75% of men who have bought Chalmers cars this year previously owned a $500, $600 or $800 car.

And the great big increase in Chalmers sales (792% in six months) has come from towns just like this.

In the old days Chalmers cars were sold for the most part in towns like New York and Chicago.

You can find Chalmers cars most any time of the day in most any block in such towns even now.

But in the smaller communities Chalmers cars are most numerous today. Because the people in towns like this were quickest to see the value, note the endurance, and observe the wonderful performance.

Particularly of this 3400 r. p. m. Chalmers, which is, in our opinion, the most able car that ever came to this town.

Price $1090 Detroit, a car well worth $1400.

The Right Flavor.

The oxen had belonged to an old sea captain, and their new owner was unable to back the animals round in a narrow street despite all efforts with voice and ox goad.

The old captain appeared on the scene. "Hard aground, are ye?" he called. Then, seizing the ox goad, he raised the old boat steerer's cry, "Starn all!" The huge hulks slowly backed at the familiar call. "Larboard all!" The beasts swayed sideways, turned to the right, and the thing was done.

Compensations of Success.

Reprimand For Tennyson.

On one occasion when Tennyson was on a visit in Ireland with Aubrey de Vere a sullen mood overtook him, and he sought out his hostess and began to inveigh against the inanity of dancing, but the lady cut him short, saying: "How would the world get on if others went about growling at its amusements in a voice as deep as a lion's? I request that you will go upstairs, put on an evening coat and come down and ask my daughter Sophia to dance."

The Fault.

"My dear, there's too much caloric in this soup."

"'Tain't so, for we hadn't such a flavor in the house. Nothin's the matter with the soup except it's too hot."—Baltimore American.

FRUIT EXCURSION THROUGH ULSTER

Natural Advantages of Hudson Valley Section to be Shown to Horticulturists From all Over Empire State—Route of Auto Trip.

Plans are nearly complete for the big fruit excursion through the Hudson Valley on Wednesday and Thursday, August 2 and 3. It will be an event long remembered.

The trip will be made by auto and begins at Kinderhook at 9 a. m. Wednesday, August 2. Among the many orchards seen, there will be those of Messrs. Morell, Ogden, Judson, Howard, Van Alstyne, also the home of ex-President Martin Van Buren.

From Kinderhook to Hudson through the Ten Broeck orchards, and then a 14 mile circuit through the fruit district of Germantown, thence to Upper Red Hook, where the famous orchards of W. S. Teator are located. From Upper Red Hook a tour is made through the Astor Estate, past the orchard of W. H. Hart, through the grounds of Vassar College into the city of Poughkeepsie, where Wednesday night will be spent.

Thursday morning at 8 o'clock the trip begins on this side of the river at Highland. From there it passeses up the Highland brick pavement, called the Gateway to Ulster County, southward through Milton, Marlborough to Middlehope, passing through the most thickly fruited country and some of the most beautiful scenery in New York state, giving an opportunity to see the successful fruit farms of many progressive owners, among which is that of A. P. Wilklow, below Highland, J. A. Hepworth, below Milton, who has taken many prizes at the state fair and secured gold and silver medals for his first fruit at the San Francisco Exposition, by W. G. Velie and Sons's farm below Marlborough, the largest fruit farm and one of the best managed in the county.

Orange County is Visited.

At Middlehope, the route turns abruptly to the right, turns again on the first road to the left, and passes along the top of the hill, where an excellent view of this wonderful fruit section and of the Hudson river scenery for some miles distant, is obtained.

City of Newburgh Will be Visited.

The route then leads into Newburgh, to Washington's headquarters up Broadway, turning and going out to Vails Gate to the orchard of J. R. Cornell. From there back through Newburgh, along the border of Downing Park, turning off the state road at Balmville, running under the eastern edge of Prospect Hill, taking the first right hand turn after passing this hill, and coming back to the top of the hill at Middle Hope, and then taking the direct route through to Lattintown. Here the route turns abruptly to the right, passing by the peach orchards of F. W. Vail, the peach king of this region, down to the state road at Milton.

Northward on the state road to the next left hand turn, proceeding to the fruit farms of the Clarkes, northward through their orchard to the other road, past Senator Palmer's place, continuing along that road to Enoch Carpenter's, turning to the right and meeting the Highland-Clintondale road at the school house below Presler's crate factory.

From thence the route follows the state road through Clintondale, Ardonia, Modena, to Ireland Corners, passing the larger fruit farms of the Hasbroucks, Deyos, etc. It then follows the road from Ireland Corners to Forest Glen past the fruit farm of R. E. DuBois. The route turns at Forest Glen to the right going throug Jenkinstown, and meeting the New Paltz, Modena state road, continuing along this road by the farm of Philip DuBois, who has invited the visitors to use his grounds for their basket picnic. It then proceeds by the orchard of A. E. Jansen, and the farm of Congressman Frank Le Fever, by the New Paltz Normal to the village of New Paltz.

Last year the fruit from the orchards of the men mentioned between Ardonia and New Paltz, sold for close to $10.000.

You will want to see these highly productive orchards with your own eyes.

At New Paltz, those who wish, may remain over night and by paying $1.00 stage hire, can be taken to Lake Mohonk the following forenoon. The remainder will leave New Paltz along the trolley road to Put Corners, Ohioville, to Elting Corners, where the route turns along the road to Clintondale, past the farm of J. Wells Weaver and Son, and within view of the fruit farm and cold storage plant of Graham Hurd and Son, both of which farms were very instrumental in securing the first prize for the best grange exhibit in New York state at the state fair for two consecutive years.

The route then leads along the state road from Clintondale to Highland and from Highland northward along the state road through West Park, Esopus, and Ulster Park, passing by Mt. St. Alphonsus School, Colonel Payne's estate and other estates, the famous naturalist, John Burroughs's home. From thence it proceeds to St Remy, passing in sight of Leslie Herring's 50 acre orchard, coming into Kingston over the Eddyville bridge, through Wilbur along Abeel street to Broadway and to the hotels for the night.

On the following day, the visitors from up the state, who remain over and desire it, through the co-operation of the Kingston Chamber of Commerce and the Automobile Club, will be taken for a trip around the Ashokan reservoir or will be taken to New Paltz where they may be taken by stage to Lake Mohonk.

A Wonderful Trip.

This will be a wonderful gathering and a wonderful excursion. You will know all of the farms and important points of interest that you pass because each of these will be labeled with a number. In your hands will be placed a catalogue in which you will find these same numbered in their order and opposite each number will be given the name of the farm and its owner and a description of it, or the name and description of the point of interest.

It is hoped that as many as possible of our local farmers will take the trip for both the other side and this side of the river. If it is not possible to go the first day across the river, meet the excursion at Highland on the second day.

See the wonders of your county. Know where your friends, the fruit growers, live.

If you have an auto to donate for our visitors from the western part of the state, notify at once the manager of the Farm Bureau at Kingston, or P. H. DuBois, New Paltz, F. W. Vail., Milton, or Ed Barnes, Middlehope.

If you do not care to do this, you, who have autos, get some neighbor of yours, who are interested in fruit growing, who have no autos, into your car and take them on this trip.

It is hoped that the autos that make the trip will be decorated, not extensively, but simply with flags, hunting or bouquets of flowers, or branches of trees.

Provide your own lunch, and your own thirst quenchers. Let your vacation days for this summer be on August 2 and 3. Make a splendid showing on that day.

It is also hoped that all farmers and others along the route will make their places as attractive as possible for that excursion, and that the road commissioners along the route will put their respective highways in as good condition as possible.

The visitors will be here to view our section. Let us put our best foot forward.

Peculiar Wrapping Material.

In Bulgaria, one of the poorer countries, where even cheap German wrapping paper is hardly known, parcels are carefully wrapped up in large square linen or printed cotton, called a bukhta. The bukhta is an institution. The bread is brought wrapped in check cotton; the shoemaker sends your boots home in a gay-colored square; even the wedding presents for a bride are sent in a bukhta. It is returned to the sender (like a basket) by the messenger.

Grape-Nuts

embodies the full, rich nutriment of whole wheat combined with malted barley. This combination gives it a distinctive, delicious flavor unknown to foods made from wheat alone.

Only selected grain is used in making Grape-Nuts and through skillful processing it comes from the package fresh, crisp, untouched by hand, and ready to eat.

Through long baking, the energy producing starches of the grain are made wonderfully easy of digestion.

A daily ration of this splendid food yields a marvelous return of health and comfort.

KINGSTON, N. Y., JULY 24, 1916.

Hurling stones down mountains to repulse enemy armies, which is reported to have been successfully tried by the Austrians against the Italian armies, is a reversion to primitive warfare in a country which witnessed similar tactics by barbarian tribes ages ago. Primitive savagery has marked the European war since its commencement. Europeans fight differently from Americans. On this side of the Atlantic, with the exception of the Mexicans, we regard war in the light of a game for which rules adopted by common consent are followed. The stakes being just as high as in any European war, the game is played just as furiously, but without the savagery which has been the accompaniment to the wars that have stained Europe's soil. But savage European ferocity has not been confined to primitive methods by any means, and the most ghastly devices of which human ingenuity is capable have been brought into use also. What we might do under similar circumstances is problematical but since civilization has proved to be only skin deep it is probable we would resort to the same means of extermination which we might find were being used against us, having regard, however, to the rights of neutrals and defenseless women and children. Could the American Indian in his pristine savagery witness some of the fighting that has been going on in Europe, and that will continue as long as the war lasts, his heart would beat in rapture at the improved cruelties which education and civilization have made possible. Compared, for instance, with poison gases and spiked hand grenades, the flaming arrows and poisoned darts with which he was accustomed to fight must appear like innocent toys.

Whether or not hysteria has any effect in the actual spreading of infantile paralysis, it is plainly manifested among some of the medical experts to whose official ministrations we are commended by our Federal government. In the face of the admitted difficulties in combatting the disease, the lack of information in the medical world as to the nature of the germ at the bottom of the strange malady, the country was treated to an announcement from Washington a few days ago the purport of which was that no further anxiety need be felt as the Federal authorities were sure that the epidemic had run its course and that a constantly abating number of cases would bear out their statement within the next few days. That there could have been little or no ground for such a belief was made plain by the record of the disease in New York on Saturday, when a new mark was set for new cases and number of deaths. The calm assurance of the Washington bulletin quoted is most jarring; in fact, this Federal health bureau utterance is only comparable in its asinine and unjustified confidence to the bewildering statements that have marked our foreign policy. Our disorders are all healed up one day and the next day old sores break out anew. It is high time for a shake-up among all our medicine men down in Washington and every such break as this one from the health service only emphasizes the demand.

"Casey at the Bat," immortalized more because of popular appreciation of the fine points of the national sport than by reason of any transcendent poetic quality, is a recent conscript to the army of subjects in the motion picture world. This fact again gives rise to the old question of authorship of the ballad over which ingenious press agents for the film folk are endeavoring to revive a controversy. Relatively speaking, this matter of authorship is almost wholly secondary to the poem's importance as an object lesson in the value of advertising. Casey, a rank failure at the critical moment of his baseball career, when opportunity knocked in vain at his heroic willow, was not at all deserving of the enduring fame thus thrust upon him. Yet, nevertheless, he got away with it and the rhymester's wit has made of him a monument which shall stand as long as baseball is played on this continent, a period which experts say will last even longer than the available supply of nitrogen, that is booked to meet demands for 14 trillions of years. But to go back to Casey, in the light of all the fame thus given to a failure, how many people actually know to whose prowess it was due that the mighty Mudville slugger fanned? It has remained for an advertising expert to point out that the pitcher was none other than Riley, whose light has been hidden beneath a bushel these many years. Riley, the man who struck out Casey and defeated Mudville! Was there ever a crueler trick of fate than that the real hero of the occasion should be lost to memory. But the moral, as the Duchess would say to Alice in Wonderland, is that Casey advertised. To point out such truth, it is a pleasure to give gratuitous publicity to this forthcoming product of our hard-pushed scenario factories.

LITTLE LAUGHS.

"I wonder why Alice has remained a miss." "Because she failed to make a hit."—Boston Transcript.

"Is help scare around here?" "Yes," replied Farmer Corntossel. "I can secure for a consideration any amount of advice and supervisory assistance. But plain ordinary help is gettin' scarcer every year."—Washington Star.

In Memphis, a colored man was on trial for felony. The judge asked him if he desired the appointment of a lawyer to defend him. "No sah," said Sambo, "I'se gwine to throw myself on de ignorance ob de cou't."—Puck.

Anxious Mother—"I wish you would speak to my son about smoking, Bishop. Tell him he won't go to heaven if he persists in it." The Bishop—"My dear lady, that argument is out of date. I'll warn him that he won't get on the ball team."—Judge.

Little Edna, who was watching the men working a pile-driver in the lot opposite, said to her mother: "I'm so sorry for those poor men, mamma; they've been trying and trying to lift out that big weight and every time they get it almost to the top it falls right back again."—Boston Transcript.

"Don't tell me you can't find work," said the hard-faced housekeeper. "Well, mum," replied the tramp at the door, "it's true a man offered me a job only las' week, but I couldn't take it." "And why not?" "I was paralyzed." "You seem all right now." "Yessum. Yer see, I wuz paralyzed wid fright."—Birmingham Age-Herald.

Only Source of Amusement.

"Are you trying to make your summer boarders comfortable?"

"Not much," replied Farmer Corntossel. "I'd rather encourage 'em to move along so we can take a chance on another bunch knowing some better songs and stories."—Exchange.

A Wee Bit Sane.

While a certain Scotch minister was conducting religious services in an asylum for the insane one of the inmates cried out wildly:

"I say, have we got to listen to this?"

The minister, surprised and confused, turned to the keeper and said: "Shall I stop speaking?"

The keeper replied:

"No, no; gang along, gang along; that will not happen again. The man has only one lucid moment every seven years."—The Christian Herald.

The Closed Circle.

Young Girl—Yes, I feel an intense longing to do something for others.

Friend—Just whom do you mean by others?

"Well, I suppose almost anybody outside of my immediate family."—Life.

More His Price.

Only the fact that his cold was very severe indeed persuaded Sandy MacGregor to go to the local chemist for advice.

"Mon, A've an awful' cauld," he said, plaitively. "Hav ye a guid cure fur it?"

"I have," said the man of drugs, promptly. "I know of a sovereign remedy."

Sandy backed slowly toward the door.

"Hoots ava' mon!" he said again, anriously. "D'ye no kenyin aboot fewer-pence."—Answers.

Too Much.

"Why do you always go out every time one of my women friends call?"

"Well, my dear," replied her husband "I am glad to meet your friends, but you must remember that I have heard the story of your Atlantic City trip about 17 times now."—Indianapolis Star.

London's Confusing Streets.

When it comes to confusing street systems London should not be overlooked. Some consider it the most confusing, even Londoners not always being sure of locations. As an example of what one meets in the British capital a man once asked to be directed to a certain house on King street. He was sent in one direction. When he did not come to King street as soon as he expected he asktd again for King street and was sent in an opposite direction. Again not sure of his direction he aked a third time for King street and was asked which King street he wanted.

The question stumped him, not knowing that London has 19 King streets. This number does not include the King streets in London's suburbs.

If this man who wanted King street had asked for Queen street his predicament would have been even greater, for there are 34 Queen streets in London. Great as the city is, it is far behind New York in regard to a comprehensive street system, even though corners of New York such as Greenwich Village are most confusing.—New York Sun.

Keep Busy.

To be happily busy—busy in doing something we delight in doing—is a splendid antidote for worry. For indolence is an acid on the wheels of life; sand in the eye of energy. Thousands of semi-invalids to whom adverse fortune has denied the pleasures of useful work have ridden to health on a hobby.

Sure Scheme.

Young Wife—"I am determined to learn at what hour my husband comes home at night. Yet, do what I will, I cannot keep awake, and he is always careful not to make a particle of noise. Is there any drug which produces wakefulness?" Old Wife—"No need to buy drugs. Sprinkle the floor with tacks."

SIXTY YEARS IN BUSINESS

Safford Jewelry House Opened on Wall Street in 1856 And Has Prospered There For Three Score Years.

Today C. H. Safford & Company, the Wall street jewelers, enter upon the sixty-first year of the business started by the late Charles B. Safford at No. 12 (now 324) Wall street, known in 1856 as Exchange Block. In 1857 the firm was Safford & Kail and continued so for a couple of years. Shortly afterwards Mr. Safford moved to No. 14 (now 322) Wall street, and continued there until October, 1870, when he removed to No. 26 (now 310) Wall street, where the business has been carried on for 45 years. From 1872 to 1877 the firm name was Safford & Carter. Charles B. Safford died in 1908, having been in active management for 52 years. Upon his death the present firm took over the business, with Charles H. Safford as acting partner.

Last June E. W. Matheson, the veteran watchmaker, completed 50 years of service, and Mr. Safford, in the name of the four Saffords of this house, presented him with a handsome diamond ring and a fine portrait of Charles B. Safford, with whom Mr. Matheson was always a great favorite. C. H. Safford became associated with his father in the business about 40 years ago and for 30 years has been a practicing optician and optometrist. In recognition of the sixty years of business of this house he has brought out an entirely new souvenir spoon that is distinctive and worthy of historic Kingston and that is meeting ready sale to Kingstonians who add it to their collection or present it to their visiting friends; also to visitors to the Colonial City.

SUNDOWN.

Sundown, July 24.—Mrs. William Ryan of Red Hill has been spending a few days with her son, Otis, the past week.

An automobile party spent a few days last week at the Humbert cottage.

Benjamin Cortright and M. Dean have traded horses. Don't know yet which got beat.

Mrs. M. Dean has returned home from New York city where she has been spending a few weeks with relatives.

OPPOSED TO MEDDLERS' DEMAND

Judge Clearwater Scores Irresponsible Busybodies and Asserts That Presidential Nominees are Human and Have Some Rights.

The New York Herald, which has urged Judge Hughes to name in advance of the election, the men whom he will appoint to each of the more important portfolios in his cabinet if he is elected president, has been interviewing prominent men in different parts of the United States upon that question. On Sunday it printed a large number of these interviews, and among others it printed Judge Clearwater's views in opposition to the Herald's attitude in the following special dispatch from Kingston:

Kingston, N. Y., Saturday.—Judge Alphonso Trumpbour Clearwater, formerly president of the New York State Bar Association and a publicist of national reputation, believes the president should not be hampered by ante-election pledges in the selection of his cabinet. He had read the Herald's editorials urging Mr. Hughes to name the men who would lead his cabinet, if elected, and in expressing his opinion Judge Clearwater prepared the following statement for the Herald:

"I do not regard as feasable the suggestion that nominees for the presidency should make known their selection of cabinet officers before the election. There are few presidential candidates who are conversant with the multifarious duties devolving upon a cabinet officer, and the time of the candidate prior to the election is so occupied with the countless, perplexing and disturbing details of the campaign that he has but little of it to devote to the obtaining of an accurate knowledge of them. The framers of the constitution wisely provided an interim of four months between the election and the inauguration in which the president elect may acquire at least something more than a superficial knowledge of what will devolve upon him and his cabinet, and determine whom he will select to aid him. Prior to the election the candidate is beset by all sorts and conditions of men, who by subtle and ingenious pretexts, coupled with extravagant promises, seek to commit him, less to definite lines of governmental policy, than to the disposal of offices, and of all offices in the bestowal of the president, that of a seat in the cabinet to them is by far the most important as it carries with it the dispensing of vast patronage. Presidential nominees, like other men, consciously or unconsciously are influenced by their wishes, and notwithstanding lofty declarations of a disdain for results, usually wish to win, and in the desire to do so sometimes are misled by the claims of designing or optimistic supporters into the making of promises and the declaration of purposes from which after the election they would gladly retreat if honorably they could. While most presidential candidates have some acquaintance with the prominent men of the country, unless a man has served in one of the branches of the congress for a long time, he has not had the opportunity accurately to guage the character and capacity of men in public life, and it not infrequently happens that a man of brilliant intellect and striking personality has been chosen for a cabinet position for which he was utterly unfitted, proving a disappointment to the president, a detriment to the public and sometimes an intolerable nuisance. Therefore, I think it wiser that presidential nominees should neither be pressed or expected to disclose or indicate in advance of the election who they will invite into the cabinet. The fact is," said Judge Clearwater, "that we are going too fast and too far in our demand that public officials shall say in advance what under all circumstances they will do if chosen to fill the office for which they are nominated. This attitude largely is due to thoughtlessness, and does not take into consideration that conditions may so change as to make the carrying out of a declared purpose the most unwise thing that a public official could do. Yet having once promised, no matter what happens if of necessity he changes, he lays himself open to the charge of faithlessness, and sometimes to grave imputations. I am rather in favor," said the Judge, "of a return to the reserve and dignity which at one time surrounded the presidency. By reserve and dignity I do not mean form and ceremony, but that after the election, the president-elect should have all the time to consider, digest and formulate his policy for the conservation and advancement of the interests of the republic which the constitution provides, free from interference by self appointed, irresponsible busybodies, who are less interested in those interests than in their own."

Wilbur Feds Defeat Cementon.

The Wilbur Feds traveled to Cementon on Sunday and administerd a trimming to the baseball team of that place. The score was 5 to 0. Cullen and Stoudt did the twirling for the Feds, with Bush at the receiving end. The game was exciting despite the score. The Feds put up an exceptionally fast game and amazed the the Cementon players by their clever execution of difficult plays.

A Fortune in Snuffboxes.

Count Nesselrode, the Russian statesman of the last century, was a famous collector of snuffboxes. He collected them as a diplomatist, receiving one or two for each treaty he signed, and when he had got $100,000 worth of them turned them into cash and became a capitalist. His capital he invested so judiciously that his descendants are multimillionaires. The moral of Count Nesselrode's experience is that a snuffbox is not to be sneezed at.

REAPPOINTED TO TRY ASHOKAN CLAIMS

Application by the city of New York for the re-appointment of Ashokan Business Damage Commission No. 4, composed of William H. Gibson of New York city, Warden George Dezo of the Eastern New York Reformatory at Napanoch and Philip Elting of this city, was made before Judge Hasbrouck at the special term of the supreme court on Saturday. William McM. Speer appeared for the city of New York and the motion, Howard Chipp appeared for the members of the commission, and Judge John G. Van Etten appeared for several claimants.

Judge Van Etten discussed the phraseology of the order of reappointment, which he said provided only for the trial of business claims and claims for damages to property not taken, but did not make any provision for making any award for the fee, which in his judgment was a mistake because he believed riparian owners should be awarded damages for the bed of the stream itself.

Mr. Chipp said he believed the order was drawn properly. Where land is acquired, it is necessary for the city to file maps, but section 42 was added to the act to provide for another class of claims than those arising by reason of the actual taking of land, and the land having been acquired which was necessary for the reservoir and aqueduct, there remained the claims of those property owners whose land was not taken but who suffered damage by reason of the execution of the plans previously filed for which the land had been taken.

Judge Van Etten said the principal difference was that if the stream was condemned as real estate, the owner was entitled to interest on his award from the time of the acquiring of the land, but if merely for diversion of the water, the award did not carry interest.

Judge Hasbrouck told Judge Van Etten that if he wanted interest on his award, he would have to mandamus the city for the appointment of real estate commissions.

The order of re-appointment was signed.

Four Orders For One Claim.

Corporation Counsel William D. Brinnier of this city, as attorney for Mrs. Carrie A. Burhans, wife of Edwin Burhans of this city, formerly of Brown's Station, applied for an order sending Mrs. Burhans's claim to Commission No. 4. William McM. Speer, who appeared for the city of New York, did not oppose the motion. He said the claim originally had been tried before Commission No. 3, Messrs. Roche, Patterson and Irwin, who had made an award of about $1,200. Judge Hasbrouck had set aside the award on the ground that the commission had proceeded on an erroneous theory and had sent the case to Commission No. 3, Messrs. Wellington, Miller and Schoonmaker, who had dismissed the case on the ground that the claimant could not recover anything. Judge Hasbrouck also had set aside that commission's findings, and referred the claim to Commission No. 2, Messrs. Ernst, Shea and Merritt, but Mr. Brinnier and his client had not come before the commission during the year for which it had been appointed. Recently Mr. Brinnier had decided to retry the claim.

The motion of Mr. Brinnier was granted.

Scales on the Hair.

If you look at a human hair under the microscope you will find that its surface is formed of successive overlapping scales. The bristles of the hog bear much resemblance to the human hair, though their diameter is greater and the tilelike scales are much finer. Sheep's hair has much coarser scales. It is owing to the existence of these scales that one is able by a peculiar process to tell which is the tip and which the other end of a hair rolling it between his finger and thumb. Thus manipulated the hair always travels in the direction of the base because the edges of the scales prevent it from going the other way.

Magnitude of Russia.

At present the Russian empire encompasses 42 degrees of latitude and no less than 173 degrees of longitude—that is to say, it doubles the extent of the United States in length and nearly triples it in breadth. The Empire State of New York could be easily set down in the 8,047,657 square miles of the Russian empire's area 165 times, while Russia, west of the Urals alone, is ten times the size of France and thirty-three times the size of England and Wales. European Russia takes up over one-half of Europe and Asiatic Russia over one-third of all Asia. So we find Russia occupying more than one-seventh of the total land surface of the globe.—Geographical Review.

RECORDER LANG COLLECTS $38

Decides Carter's Bail Bond Forfeited, And Fines Two Automobilists—Harvey Delamater Gets 15 Days in Jail.

This morning Recorder Lang decided that the bail bond furnished by John Lipscomb for the appearance of Hutch Carter in court was forfeited by Carter's non-appearance, and the amount of the bond, $30, will be turned over to the city treasury by the court. Carter, with another negro, was arrested for fighting fifteen days ago, and William D. Brinnier, Jr., who was acting recorder at the time, accepted bail in the sum of $60 furnished by Mr. Lipscomb for the appearance of the two negroes in court the following day. At that time but one negro appeared and it was stated that Carter had skipped town. Judge Brinnier gave Mr. Lipscomb ten days to produce Carter or the bail would be forfeited. Later Recorder Lang extended the time an additional five days.

Saturday Frank Carter was arrested for running his automobile up Broadway with his cutout open. The arrest was made by Policeman O'Neil. Carter paid a fine of $3.

Sunday Thomas M. Herrick of Woodstock was arrested by Policeman Shader on a charge of driving his automobile on the wrong side of the street. Mr. Herrick was fined $5 which he paid.

Saturday Policeman Ryan arrested Harvey Delamater for stealing some tools from the Bernstein building on North Front street. This morning Harvey confessed to Recorder Lang that he was drunk that day and could not remember of taking any tools. It was brought out that the tools had been recovered. Recorder Lang sentenced Harvey to the county jail for fifteen days after Harvey had pleaded guilty to public intoxication.

Fire Alarm Was Needless.

A vulcanizer in the garage of Arthur C. Connelly in the rear of his residence on Albany avenue either upset or exploded about eleven o'clock this morning. Harry Connelly, son of Mr. Connelly, had been using the vulcanizer and had stepped outside the garage a few minutes before the fire occurred. Michael Costello, chauffeur for the Misses Fuller, saw the flame and called to Harry Connelly, who extinguished the blaze with Pyrene. Other residents of the neighborhood thought the garage would be consumed and someone passing the fire alarm box at the corner of Albany and Tremper avenues rang in an alarm. The fire was extinguished before the alarm sounded. The only damage was to the workbench, which was slightly charred.

CIVILIAN RELIEF FUND ACCOUNTING

Need For Money Grows as the Company Remains Away Longer—Mrs. Chandler's Report Shows Early Need for More Money.

It is due the generous hearted people who have subscribed to the Civilian Relief Fund to give a report of the expenditure of this money, explain how it is being used and why more of it is needed. It is no loss due to those who have not yet subscribed under the impression that there is plenty of money now on hand, so that they may better understand why further donations are asked for and needed.

Out of the 160 men enlisted there are less than 20 whose families are receiving help. This is a very small percent out of a full company.

It is by a careful process of elimination that these families have been chosen, and the committee is taking care of them on a weekly budget, giving to each family a sum proportionate to the number of persons and the actual need. Five dollars is the average amount given to a woman with children to support, and only a very urgent need or a very large family calls for more. Three dollars is the amount given weekly to the aid of a woman alone, or who has any other help at all.

It does not take any very great knowledge of mathematics to figure out that if the committee is assisting 18 or 19 families at an average of $5 a week that the need for a steady supply of funds is imperative.

The boys of Company M have now been five weeks away from their jobs. It is five weeks since their families have received one cent from them. For three weeks the Relief Committee has doled out to the dependent families just enough money to buy a few staple groceries. How far will $5 go to feed a mother and three or four children? Anyone can answer that. And then what about rent and insurance and clothing? We have been counting on the ten or twelve dollars which the soldier will send home from his first month's pay to settle these things. But that pay is not yet forthcoming and is anxiously waited for.

Here now in detail is the report of what has been done to date:

Amount given out Saturday, July 8	$55
Amount given out Saturday, July 15	85
Amount given out Saturday, July 22	91
Total amount given out to date,	$234
The total number of families now receiving $5 a week	10
The total number of families now receiving $3 a week	6
Total number assisted since July 8	19

In one or two of these cases the committee merely paid up one month's grocery bill or one month's rent without further assistance. In no case was more than $10 given to any one family. The amount now on hand for civilian relief is $332. This will not last many weeks and in spite of all rumors and reports the company is still in camp. We must have more contributions.

Who will look after these people whose breadwinners have left home to serve their country? Have you helped? You, who are reading this? Small contributions are just as helpful as large ones if we get many of them. There are scores of people in Kingston who can give $5 without missing it. There are hundreds who can give $1, and hundreds more who can give 50 cents. No amount is too small.

This is not an appeal for charity. It is a sacred duty.

The fact that the Company M boys have not been sent to the border has no bearing on the case. Whether there is war or not makes no difference at all. The need is here now—today.

These women have given us their men. Let us in return give them our money.

MARTHA S. CHANDLER,
Chairman Civilian Relief

NO PARALYSIS IN SAUGERTIES

The death from infantile paralysis of Herbert T. Saunders, a four years old Brooklyn boy, at Palenville, last Monday night, is probably responsible for a story started by the Busy Street Liar that several cases had been reported at Saugerties.

Inquiry at Saugerties today disclosed that there are no cases within the town and have not been any. The town board of health at the beginning of the epidemic adopted the health regulations recomended by the State Board of Health, which have been in effect ever since and are rigidly enforced. Saugerties—both town and village—is absolutely free from the epidemic and every precaution possible to prevent its introduction has been adopted.

The Palenville case was discovered by Health Officer Krom of the town of Saugerties, who reported it. The child did not pass through Saugerties on his way to Palenville but went there by the way of the Catskill boat.

Printers Entertained.

Saturday afternoon C. F. Urquhart, of the F. A. Flinn Paper Company, entertained about 40 representative printers of the Hudson valley at Poughkeepsie. Baseball and other sports rounded out the afternoon, while a fine clambake was served the guests. As a souvenir each printer was presented with a folding pocketbook. Peter A. Spotz and James E. Connelly, of The Freeman, and Herbert E. Thomas were guests from Kingston, and enjoyed a delightful outing.

RED CROSS FUNDS GROW SLOWLY

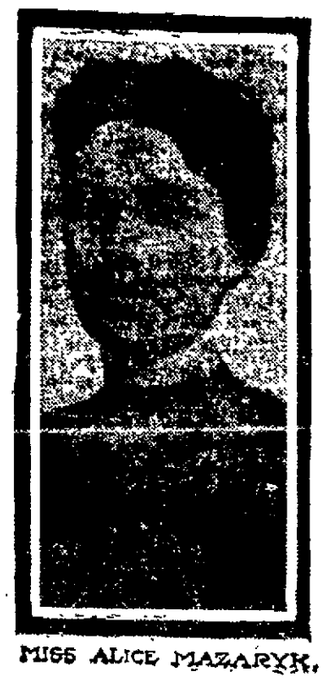

The Red Cross funds for the aid of soldiers and their dependents do not show uch growth. Receipts since last reports are as follows:

MISS ALICE MAZARYK.

AMERICAN GIRL GETS RESPITE FROM DEATH IN AUSTRALIA.

(Miss Alice Mazaryk).

That Miss Alice Mazaryk, the New York settlement worker, has not been executed by the Austrian military authorities, as was reported, is the information which came through the State Department at Washington, and is authentic.

Miss Mazaryk was put in prison for trying to help her father to escape military services. As she is not an American citizen, the United States can do nothing to hasten her release.

SAUGERTIES.

Saugerties, July 24.—At the meeting of the village board of education Friday evening, nine special policemen were appointed, the president of the board to be commander in chief of the Hawkshaw Brigade.

Miss Jessie Austin and Perry Mee of Brooklyn are visiting Mrs. John McCormick on Theodore Place.

Miss Edith Van Gelder of the Reed & Reed Dry Goods Store is in New York city.

Rev. Thomas Cole of Trinity Episcopal Church officiated at the service Sunday morning, after a vacation of two weeks.

Mrs. J. V. L. Overbagh of Bridgeport, Conn., is visiting in town.

Leo Snyder of West Bridge street was operated on for ear trouble Friday by Dr. O'Meara of Kingston.

Miss Julia Neill, a trained nurse of Brooklyn is visiting Mrs. George McNally on Partition street.

On Friday Dr. O'Meara of Kingston was in consultation with Dr. Diedling in the case of Mrs. B. F. Davis who is quite ill at the home of her father, Samuel J. Adams on West Bridge street.

John W. Shults, while dozing in a chair at his home on Partition street, fell and sustained painful injury, requiring the attention of Dr. Diedling.

Georg Kopp of Jersey City was the Sunday guest of Miss Georgia Valk.

Miss Dora Ohley of West Bridge street is spending a few days in New York city and Orange, N. J.

Miss Jane Teetsell of Partition street is spending the summer in Hensonville.

A fair sized crowd accompanied the Hennigan Association on an excursion to Poughkeepsie Sunday on the steamer Herman Livingston.

Miss Jennie Bradley of New York spent the week end with Mrs. Bernard Cox on Montgomery street.

Officer Theodore Kistner who had a serious operation for gall stones, performed at the Benedictine Sanitarium several weeks ago, is not making a rapid recovery. He has been confined to his home since his return on Friday. Dr. O'Leary of Kingston was called and with Dr. Diedling inserted a drainage tube in his side to relieve him of intense pain caused by pus formation.

Would Like Games.

The Wappingers Baseball Club has a few open dates for Sunday games and would like to arrange games with the Red Monograms, the Kingston All Stars or the Wilbur team, or any other fast team in this vicinity. Any baseball manager looking for a Sunday game should write W. P. Sherman, manager of the Wappingers Falls team at that place. His postoffice box is No. 188. Hoolihan and Burnett are the battery for the Wappingers team, and the others in the lineup are: McKenzie, first base; Weisner, second base; Leroy, short stop; Lahey, third base; Decker, left field; Leary, center field, and Sutton, right field.

WALL ST. THEATER THE LATEST TALK

Cohen Says He Will Build it if Site is Procured—Wolven Store May be the Site of New Play House.

That modern playhouse of which Kingston has so long been talking may be built by a syndicate of uptown business men, headed by George Cohen, a successful builder and proprietor of theatres in Newburgh, Poughkeepsie and other cities. Options have been secured on two Wall street sites, one on each side of John street, with odds favoring the location of the building proper on the vacant lots in the rear of the Wolven store, which would be used for an entrance. A meeting tomorrow morning between the holders of the options and Mr. Cohen will definitely decide upon the location and other details but to judge from the enthusiasm of the uptown business men interested the enterprise may already be looked upon as a sure thing.

With the Wolven store for a lobby, the plot in the rear ranging from 70 to 140 feet would serve for the site of the theatre under the present plans for which preliminary sketches have been made by Architect Girard W. Betz. The stage would be parallel with Wall street and on the Crown street side of the buiding.

"If your Kingston business men are able to keep their agreements with me in regard to sites, the work on the theater will start so soon as to surprise people," said Mr. Cohen this morning over the long distance telephone from Poughkeepsie. He went on to state that he was now going over the measurements of the sites submitted and figuring out the seating capacity of the buildings as proposed to be erected.

"With the options closed and other arrangements perfected, I can have a theatre constructed complete within four or five months, barring any unforseen obstacles," said Mr. Cohen.

According to business men behind the project, the enterprise will call for an investment of from $75,000 to $100,000 complete and it is said that the financing of the thing could be arranged in Newburgh where prominent men affiliated with banking interests have assured Mr. Cohen of their willingness to do so if that matter is not taken care of in Kingston.

It is also stated that an issue of bonds or stock may be made, the same in smaller denominations affording a widespread distribution and an incident interest in the success of the venture. Among those interested in the theater are Aaron Cohen, Ralph Cohen, David Burgevin, Herman Marblestone, E. F. McFadden, Frank Forman, E. O. Rose, Herman and Max Rosenthal, Sam Bernstein, A. E. Rose, Vincent A. Gorman, and others

Mr. Cohen is a forenr resident of Jamestown, who came to Newburgh ten years ago, since which time he has been most successfuly engaged in various theatrical enterprises, including the operation of theaters at Beacon, Peekskill and Wappingers Falls as well as at Newburgh and Poughkeepsie. He has made a thorough survey of the possibilities of Kingston as a theater city and of the section in the vicinity of the proposed theater, arriving at a most optimistic conclusion with respect to the profitable prospects for the proposed theater.

With a theater in Kingston, in addition to his other enterprises, it is believed possible that Mr. Cohen will inaugurate high class vaudeville attractions with a change of bill nightly, or at least every other night, this being made possible by his chain of theaters which could be operated on a circuit at a minimum of expense and a maximum of variety for patrons. Motion pictures and occasional high class attractions as the patronage may warrant are also said to be included in the preliminary plans.

The uptown section is evincing considerable interest and several conferences have been held at which the persons mentioned have met with Mr. Cohen and made arrangements as to the securing of options. Mr. Cohen is expected in Kingston on Tuesday at which time it is believed that all arrangements will be closed or at least definitely set down so that the theater project will be under way within the next few weeks.

RED CROSS MILITARY RELIEF RECEIVED

In addition to the other gifts already turned in to Mrs. Meagher for the Company M men, the Ladies' Auxiliary, Tappen Camp, Sons of Veterans, have just contributed 48 packages of cigarettes and 48 packages of Prince Albert tobacco, with 18 boxes of matches and 2 dozen corn cob pipes. William O'Reilly, the newsdealer, also contributed 6 dozen more corn cob pipes and a large box of cigarettes. Captain Meagher, of Company M, was home over Sunday, and today took back with him to camp the contributions mentioned above and all of the other gifts which were awaiting at the armory to go to camp. This afternoon Mrs. Meagher's committee was again at the armory to receive any donations taken there for our soldier boys.

AUTOMOBILE NOTES.

Construction in the village of Saugerties is proceeding on Main street, making necessary detours on the side streets, which are marked.

The repair work on the Kingston-Saugerties road has been practically completed and the road is now open from the city line to Schoentag's Hoter. A short detour is necessary through the village of Glaso.

The roadway on the Spillway bridge is to be covered with brick pavement, making necessary the closing of a part of the Ashokan Boulevard, on each side of the bridge. A detour has been provided from each side of the bride, being the same detour which was used while the bridge was under construction. The road is narrow and steep, but otherwise is in good shape.

Arrangements are being made this afternoon by the members of the Chamber of Commerce Transportation Committee for the automobile trips for the police chiefs who will be here for their two days' convention opening Wednesday and also for the big excursion of fruit-growers through Ulster county on August 3. It is expected that cars will be obtained in sufficient numbers for both trips as many of the convention delegates as well as the fruit men will travel in their own cars.

Red Monograms Won.

The Red Monograms of this city defeated the fast Rhinecliff team in a swift game at McVey's Field on Delaware avenue on Sunday by a score of 3 to 1. Williams, who pitched for the locals, had twelve strike outs to his credit, and Conlin, who twirled for the visitors, struck out 16 men. Smeedes, Carr, Moore, Spalt, Schwab, Zelie, Brown, Galvin and Williams were in the lineup for the locals, while the visitors were Conlin, Atkins, Ryan, Cragin, Conlin, Wheeler, Johnson, Dimler and Atkins.

Peculiar Automobile Accident.

Miss Alice Kinkade, daughter of John Kinkade of 40 Taylor street, was the victim of a peculiar accident Sunday morning when she was thrown from her father's automobile by the force of a tire explosion, and suffered a fractured arm and dislocated elbow as a result. The accident occurred on the Ashokan Boulevard and the car was moving less than ten miles an hour at the time. None of the others in the party suffered injury.

Start of Coffee Industry in Java.

Down to 1690 the only source of coffee supply was Arabia; but in that year Governor Van Heorne of the Dutch East India company received some coffee seeds from traders, who plied between the Arabian gulf and Java. These seeds were planted and thrived so well that the industry of coffee-growing soon made Java one of the richest possessions under the control of the historic Dutch East India company.

CALL TO ARMS TO TEST TROOPS

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

McAllen, Tex., July 24.—The New York division at McAllen was aroused at 7 o'clock today by the call to arms sounded by a bugler at headquarters. Within an instant the call was taken up by the buglers of the various units and the men were soon under arms ready to advance against the imaginary foe. One third of the force went out as skirmishers at a distance of 1,200 yards, the idea being to protect the camp from rifle fire. The remainder were held in support and reserve contact was maintained between the various parts of the line.

AUTO ACCIDENT AT WEST PARK

One man was seriously hurt and three others were more or less injured when the automobile in which they were riding tipped over hurling them out this afternoon on the state road near West Park. From what could be learned the accident happened when those who were injured attempted to pass another automobile in the road ahead of them and in making the attempt turned off the road into a ditch. The car swerved and one of the wheels broke, tipping the machine over. The man most seriously injured was hurried to the Vassar Hospital at Poughkeepsie. Who the injured people were could not be learned but it is presumed they were from New York, and were on their way home at the time.

FRACTURED SKULL KILLS HOUGHTALING

William Houghtaling of No. 198 Abeel street, a carpenter employed on Schoonmaker & Conner's boatyard along the Rondout creek, died in the Kingston City Hospital from a fractured skull received while at work on the boatyard this morning. He was at work on a barge when he lost his balance and fell into the boat's hold. Dr. A. A Stern was summoned, and had Mr. Houghtaling removed to the Kingston City Hospital in the ambulance, where efforts to save his life proved vain. The body was turned over to Stock & Cordts, and the funeral arrangements will be made later.

Mohonk Wins Again.

Mohonk Lake, July 24.—The baseball team of the Central Hudson Gas and Electric Company was defeated here Saturday by the score of 16 to 6. The game was loosely played by both sides, as is shown by the large number of errors. While Owl was hit fairly hard, he kept the hits well scattered, except in the fifth inning, when four hits, a base on balls and four errors netted the visitors four runs. Hasks suffered from poor support and was hit hard retiring after 13 runs had been scored.

Another Way to Rejuvenate Eggs.

A Maryland man has found a means of preserving eggs with a substance known as "liquid petrolatum," which he claims will rapidly penetrate eggs, when applied externally, and make them proof against moisture or bacterin. The preserving substance is a mixture of hydro-carbons. When properly treated, eggs can be preserved under a normal temperature for many weeks without deteriorating.—Popular Science Monthly.

TROOPERS HAUL HAY FOR MOUNTS.

National Guardsmen, many of them entirely unaccustomed to the work, are displaying what is considered remarkable skill in the routine work of caring for their mounts in the camps on the Mexican border. One of the tasks is the handling of bales of hay. It is no easy proposition to "toss" the baled hay from the auto trucks, but the men go to it with a will—if you think it's easy try it some day when the temperature is near 100 as it is now in Texas.

PROSPERITY ONLY DURING WAR TIME

Official Figures Give Lie to Democratic Claims For Free Trade—Our Markets Open to Europe and South America—War Creates Problems.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

Washington, July 24.—(Special correspondence)—Our trade with Europe more than accounted for the favorable balances recorded during the 11 months of the fiscal years ended May, 1915 and 1916. This is a significant fact when taken in connection with the Democratic claim that ours is not a war-order prosperity. The official figures rebut that claim.

Our total trade with the world, exports and imports, for the 11 months of the fiscal year 1913, when the Republican tariff law was in operation, amounted to $3,984,000,000. This yielded us a favorable balance of trade of $620,000,000. For the 1914 period, eight months of which was under the Democratic near-free-trade tariff law, our total trade reached $3,943,000,000, our favorable balence dropping to $471,000,000, a decrease of 24 per cent compared with 1913.

For the 1915 period, 10 months of which was under war conditions, with large orders coming in from Europe, our total trade reached $4,016,000,000. For the 1916 period, entirely under war conditions, with industries in this country working at full capacity to supply the belligerents, our trade totaled $5,822,000,000, and our favorable trade balance mounted to $1,918,000,000.

Our trade with Europe alone during the 1915 period totaled $2,360,000,000, giving us a favorable balance of $1,220,000,000, or $236,000,000 more than that received from our total trade with the world for the period. During the 1916 period it totaled $3,236,000,000, giving us a favorable balance of $2,138,0000,00 or $220,000,000 more than received from our trade with the entire world.

With Germany, Austria-Hungary, Turkey-in-Europe, and Belgium practically out of the running, so far as their exporting trade was concerned, and the Allied Powers diverting their wealth and energies to the manufacture of war materials, and with millions of factory hands in the field, Europe's exports to us during the 1916 period were but $227,000,000 less, and during the 1915 period $256,900,000 less than during the 1914 period, thanks to the Democratic tariff law. Imports from the whole world during the 1916 period exceeded those of the 1915 period by $436,000,000, and the 1913 normal period, under Republican law, by $270,000,000.

Can Enter U. S. Free.

During the 1913 period, a trade with North America totaling $893,000,000 netted us a favorable trade balance of $227,000,000. Our North American trade dropped to $869,000,000 during 1914, and the favorable balance declined to $103,000,000. In 1915 the balance fell to $7,000,000. In 1916, with a total trade with this continent of $1,181,000,00 our favorable balance was $135,000,000, or $102,000,000 less than during the 1913 period.

During the 1916 period Canada bought extensively of us for supplying her territorials on the firing line and for Great Britain. Eliminating our trade with Canada from the calculation for this period and there would have been a balance of trade against us with the remainder of North America of $96,000,000.

The balance of trade has always been against us in our trade with South America, and it will continue to be so long as we purchase their raw materials, coffee, meats, grains, etc., while they buy the bulk of their manufactured goods from Europe and discriminate against our products. The Democratic tariff law gives them a free American market, while we have to pay to enter theirs. The Department of Commerce has been doing a lot of tall bragging about our trade with that continent, and Secretary McAdoo was sent down there on a warship to cement more firmly our trade relations with the Latin-Americas. But the administration has small reason for elation.

Russia's Due to War.

With a total trade with that continent of $343,000,00 during 1913 period, the balance of trade was but $73,000,000 against us. During the 1915 period the total trade was $[illegible]1,000,000 and the balance of trade was $149,000,000 against us, and for the 1916 period the total trade was $509,000,000 with a balance of trade against us of $189,000,000. What has Mr. Redfield to say to that?

Our trade with Asia has made a somewhat better showing, recording a balance against us for the 1915 period of $146,000,000, compared with $150,000,000 in 1913. But we imported $382,000,000 worth of goods from Asia during the 1916 period, compared with $256,000,000 during the 1913 period. Here, again, war orders played an important role in our trade.

With a normal exportation of $1,250,000 worth of our products to Russia-in-Asia, the total rose to $19,500,000 in 1915, and $106,000,000 for the 1916 period. These goods went over the trans-Siberian railroad to the Russian troops. Eliminating the Russia-in-Asia trade for the 1916 period, from the computation, the $105,000,000 increase in exports being wholly due to war, and the balance against us in our trade with the rest of Asia was $251,000,000.

Break Even With Africa.

Our favorable balance of trade with Oceania fell from $37,000,000 during the 1913 period to $1,500,000 for the 1916 period.

We just broken even in our trade with Africa during 1913, but the balance against us during the 1916 period was $22,000,000.

Considered from every angle the conclusion is unescapable that the wonderful favorable trade balances which we have been making during the past two years have been due wholly to our trade with Europe and the stupendous demand of the belligerents for war materials. The increase in exports which have been recorded are due largely to the fact that neutral countries have no European source of supply on which to rely. There is no reason why the Democratic Administration should plume itself on this showing.

POLICE CHIEFS HERE WEDNESDAY

Chief Wood and the police board are leaving no stone unturned to make the annual convention of the police chiefs of the state, which will open in this city on Wednesday, a success. It is expected that there will be about one hundred police chiefs and their wives in attendance, as well as several mayors and a number of police commissioners from the various cities in the state present. The visitors are expected to begin arriving Wednesday morning. The Stuyvesant Hotel has been designated as the official headquarters. The first session of the convention will open Wednesday afternoon at 1 o'clock in the common council chambers at the city hall. The complete program was printed in Friday's Freeman.

DIVORCE DIDN'T TAKE.

So One Party to the Proceedings Asks the Court to Believe.

An interesting question on the right of the court to open a final judgment of divorce on the ground that the parties to the action had returned to each other for a brief period between the time the interlocutory judgment and final decree were filed, was raised before Judge Hasbrouck on Saturday when application was made to set aside the final decree of divorce which was granted two years ago to William Goetze of Albany from his wife, Emilie Goetze.

The claim that her husband returned to her after the interlocutory judgment was filed and before the final decree was granted is made by Mrs. Goetze, who offered affidavits of neighbors that her husband had visited her at her flat during that time. One of the two children also claims she was told by her father not to tell her grandmother that he had been at the house.

Goetze claims that the present proceeding is taken merely to embarrass him because he recently announced his engagement to a young woman of Albany. On one of the dates when he is alleged to have visited his wife, he claims that he was spending Sunday with some friends at a road house on the Schenectady road, and that on Saturday nights, when his wife claims he always called, he invariably met a crowd of friends at a cafe and they would have noticed his absence.

Judge Hasbrouck reserved decision.

SIDE WITH TRUTH.

Side with truth before it is popular to side with it. Side with God and humanity and human hope just as fast as you can see what is best for humanity. Be fully persuaded in your own mind. Do not drift. It is not worthy of a man to drift. A man ought to have a conviction. Most people have only opinions, impressions, impulses. How to Clean Straw Hats.

"To make straw hats look like new," says the Woman's Home Companion, "have your druggist prepare a small quantity of shellac cut with wood alcohol, light colored shellac for light hats, brown shellac for brown or dark colors. For black hats you may add to the brown shellac and alcohol a small quantity of nigrosine. Shake well before using. Apply lightly and evenly with a small brush. It is well to lay the hat aside for a few hours to dry thoroughly, and to allow the odor of alcohol to evaporate. If the mixture is too thick, add a little more alcohol; if too thin, add a little more shellac."

Don't Worry!

Health is oftener undermined by worry than by work. Lincoln wisely said that no man ever sank under the burden of the day. It is only when the burden of tomorrow is added, that the load becomes greater than a man can carry. Remember, then, to bear your burden a day at a time and don't worry.

GIANTS' OUTFIELD IS GREATEST IN GAME

MANAGER M'GRAW'S WRECKING CREW.

With Speaker shifted to Cleveland and with Sam Crawford slowing up a bit, there is no longer any question as to the game's greatest outfield. It consists of Burns, Kauff and Roberston of the New York Giants. Taking in the essential factors of speed, fielding, throwing and batting, this trio is well beyond all other competition.

All three are .300 hitters; all three can field and peg and all three can cover a world of outfield soil. And they are all young enough to face a long future together. Burns is twenty-seven, Kauff and Robertson are but twenty-four. They have more combined power than the old Speaker-Lewis-Hooper array and greater speed than the Cobb-Crawford-Veach combination at its best.

VETERAN SHORTSTOP IS FAST

George McBride of Washington, Like Wagner and Lajoie, Covers Vast Amount of Territory.

George McBride, Washington's shortstop and captain of the team, is almost the age of Wagner and Lajoie, and has been with the Senators eight years. He is thirty-four years old, and yet is as fast and nimble as when he first broke into fast company.

McBride's speed afield has always been great, as it alone has kept him in the majors. He has never shown any talent at all with the bat and his fattest year in this respect was 1911, when he batted .235. Last season he batted .204 and he has very seldom done much better. That he continued in fast company and excellent repute is the greater tribute to his brilliance on the field.

But perhaps the most interesting feature of McBride's career is the small number of games he has ever missed. During five seasons in the eight years he has been with Washington he has played in every game on the schednle. In only one season has he failed to take part in at least 150 games, and that was last season, when he had part in 146. For a veteran—he's been in baseball 15 years now—that's a record to talk about.

MUST BEAT DODGERS TO WIN

Only Team That Appears to Be Dangerous to Phillies Is Brooklyn—Hitting Is Desired.

The Phils must beat the Dodgers to win the National league flag, writes George M. Young in Philadelphia Public Ledger. We have seen Moran's men stacked up against all the other clubs in the league on the home grounds, and the only team that appears dangerous to the Phillies is Brooklyn.

It is their inability to hit that has prevented the Phillies from taking the lead. The pitching has not been what it should be, considering the showing of the twirlers last year, but if the champions were hitting up to their regular form that factor would offset the weakness in the box. The Phillies have demonstrated that they are the best run-getting team in the league on a few hits, several games recently won being decided by the finest kind of inside baseball. All that the Phillies need is to regain their batting eye and Brooklyn will have to be a better ball club than it appears to be just now to keep Moran's men out of another pennant.

ELLENVILLE.

Ellenville, July 24.—S. A. Palmer of Mt. Vernon, N. Y., is stopping in town for several days, a guest at the Van Horn home on Maple avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. Guy L. Gould are spending the week at Ocean Grove, where Mrs. Gould represents the Women's Foreign Missionary Society of the M. E. Church at a missionary gathering held there.

Waldo B. Cookingham is attending summer school at Cornell and in the fall will teach in the department of agriculture in the schools at Atlanta, N. Y.

Miss Greta Rapp is spending some days at Lake George.

Mrs. John G. Newkirk of Minneapolis, Minn., has been spending a few days with Ellenville relatives.

Mrs. R. F. Mackey of Jacksonville, Fla., is visiting Ellenville relatives.

Miss Nellie E. Couch has gone to Oneonta to attend summer school at the Normal, where Miss Alice Brown of Ellenville is a student. Miss Brown's greetings to Ellenville friends state there are over six hundred students enrolled at the Normal.

Emmons Gray is home from the School of Technology at Troy.

Frank Reed of Hoboken and Miss Grace Reed of Red Bank, N. J., have been recent guests of their aunt, Mrs. Laurence Bellin.

Mrs. Mary Wepfer of Brooklyn has arrived to spend some weeks at her Ellenville home.

James W. Russell, who has taken a position at his trade in Poughkeepsie, will move there in the near future.

Miss Phaynes of Poughkeepsie is spending some weeks with Mrs. James N. Stilwell on Park street.

Miss Florence Tenney has gone to visit friends at Pawtucket.

The Ulster County Agricultural Society is sending out its annual premium list. The premiums offered are an attraction and many are already engaged upon work that will be entered for exhibition at the fair to be held on the Ellenville Driving Park August 15-18.

A meeting of the Ellenville Woman Suffrage Club will be held at Maplewood Tuesday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock. Mrs. Harriet Otis Dellenbaugh of New York, who is at her summer home at Cragsmoor, upon invitation will be present and deliver an address to the ladies.

Ellenville baseball team was again defeated by the O. & W. team of Middletown, Clark Litchrod, manager, on the driving park grounds Saturday afternoon by a score of 8 to 4.

Arthur K. Getman, of the division of agriculture and industrial education connected with the state department of education, will give an illustrated lecture at the high school auditorium Friday evening, at 8 o'clock. The purpose of the lecture, which is free, is to show the methods and modes of operation to these schools and inform the people of Ellenville and vicinity concerning them so that the people may vote intelligently when the proposition is submitted at the time of voting on August 2, when the annual school meeting of District No 29 takes place.

Friday evening, July 28, a musicale will be given in the auditorium of the M. E. Church at Napanoch An excellent program has been arranged. Vocal solos by Mrs. John W. Rapp and Guy L. Gould of Ellenville are to be given in addition to those taking part from Napanoch.

Mrs. Otis Lapp will entertain the members of the Sewing Circle of the Lutheran Church at her home on Circle avenue Tuesday afternoon, and the members of the Ladies' Aid will meet with Mrs. Robert Scherb at her home on Scoresby Heights on Wednesday afternoon.

Ellenville is taking every precaution against the dread disease, infantile paralysis. The town board, village board and board of health have the matter well in hand and the entire population are glad to take a hand to stay the disease No cases have been in the village limits One reported at the Cape and one case reported to have died at what is known as Cantonville.

HANS WAGNER.

HANS WAGNER'S BATTING ABILITY WILL NOT YIELD TO FATHER TIME.

Hans Wagner keeps batting 'em out just the same as ever and is still the idol of the fans. This year his record is around .335 which is pretty good for even a younger major leaguer. Wagner' wonderful playing disproves the theory that a ball player is only good for a certain number of years, for Wagner is now forty-three and shows no signs of weakening.

Poor Thackeray!

Sir William Howard Russell's diary for April, 1852, has this amusing glimpse of Thackeray:

"The sportsmen among whom I had the honor to be numbered were of the Winkle order. Thackeray, Dickens, John Beech, Jerrold, Lemon, Ibbotson, were invited, and carriages were reserved to Watford. As we were starting a written excuse was brought from Dickens to be conveyed to Mrs X by Thackeray. The party drove up to the house, and after compliments Thackeray delivered the billet. The effect was unpleasant. Mrs. X. fled along the hall, and the guests heard her calling to the cook. 'Martin, don't roast the ortolans. Mr. Dickens isn't coming.'

"Thackeray said he never felt so small. 'There's a test of popularity for you! No ortolans for Pendennis!'"

Protection From Lightning.

Sir Oliver Lodge stated that the problem of securing protection from lightning consisted in finding the best method of dissipating the enormous energy of the flash, but that it was not wise to get rid of the energy too quickly. A thin iron wire is considered the best lightning conductor from the electrical point of view, but it is almost impossible to protect a building from lightning unless it is completely enveloped in a metal cage. It is by no means true that a building is safe when provided with a conductor reaching up to the highest part of the building.

A Fairy Story.

Three men stood before the good fairy.

"Why do you want wealth?" demanded the good fairy of one.

"I want to fix somebody."

"And you?"

"I want to show somebody."

"And you?"

"I want to help somebody."

Which one did the good fairy assist?—Kansas City Journal.

Pillows Generally Too High.

A family doctor writes: "I cannot give you a universal recipe for sound sleep, but let me tell you that in all the thousands of patients I have seen in bed I have never met with one who arranged his pillows hygienically. All too high, far too high. High pillows curve the spine, bend the neck, and thus prevent the free circulation of blood in the brain. You can never get the full value out of a night's sleep unless you fix your pillow so low that the head and neck are just on a level with the spine."

Freezing Coconuts to Get at Milk.

A Pennsylvania man has devised a means of removing coconut shells by freezing the nut until the shell is already contracted, and then subjecting it to a comparatively high temperature so as to cause rapid expansion. Cracks in the shell are thus produced. A series of hammer blows then completes the breaking of the shell.—Popular Science Monthly.

MATTERS OF INTEREST IN SPECIAL TERM

C. A. Hartshorn of the village of Marlborough is dissatisfied with the assessment of $4,500 which the village assessors fixed for his store property and began certiorari proceedings to review the assessment, which came before Judge Hasbrouck at Saturday's special term of the supreme court. Mr. Hartshorn was represented by Alexander Johnson of Marlborough, who claimed that the assessors had promised on grievance day that the assessment should be reduced, but the record of their proceedings showed they had failed to keep their agreement. Irregularities in regard to the affidavits required by law are also claimed by Mr. Hartshorn, who alleged that his entire assessment is void. Wallace, O'Neil & Graney of Newburgh are attorneys for the assessors, but all the members of the firm are on duty at Camp Whitman. They were represented, however, by Mr. Frederick of Newburgh. Judge Hasbrouck reserved decision.

Feed Dealers or Real Estate Brokers?

A motion to change the place of trial of the suit brought by Joseph Burman and Louis Cherney against Philip Goldstein raised the question, among others, of whether the plaintiffs are feed dealers at Kerhonkson or real estate brokers. The action is brought to recover broker's commissions for the sale of real estate, and the defendant asked that the place of trial be changed from Ulster to Sullivan county. Decision was reserved. John D. Lyons of Monticello appeared for the defendant and the motion; Traver & Murray appeared for the paintiffs and opposed.

Other Cases Heard.

Motions to vacate orders for the examination of John J. Burns before trial in two actions brought against him by the Hadeden Merz Company and the Katz Underwear Company were argued by John W. Eckert for the defendant and the motion and by John D. Lyons for the plaintiff companies and opposed. Decision was reserved.

A motion was made to continue a temporary injunction in the suit brought by William J. Stoneman against Caroline E. Brietensten. The plaintiff is a brother of the defendant and both reside in Albany, where they own adjoining properties which they inherited from their father. They use the same chimney, but Mrs. Brietensten is anxious to have the chimney hole closed which connects with her brother's property. A temporary injunction was granted restraining her from executing her purpose. Judge Hasbrouck reserved decision on the motion. Frost, Daring & Warner appeared for the plaintiff and the motion; Thomas S. Fagan appeared for the defendant and opposed.

Orders Granted.

Orders were granted in the following cases:

Hiram W. Hulse against J. Dimmick Conklin. Judgment of foreclosure and sale granted. David W. Woolsey for the plaintiff.

Rose Slater Bauer against Anthony Bauer. Final decree of divorce granted. Judge N. Frank O'Reilly for the plaintiff.

Sophia Politka against Jacob Goldberg and others. Order of discontinuance granted.

Abram J. Post against Pasquale Gunda and others. Order confirming referee's report of sale in mortgage foreclosure granted. John L. Fray for the plaintiff.

Archibald Ledley against John Knight and another. Order changing place of trial from Washington to Orange county granted. John D. Lyons for the defendant.

William Engel against Maurice Lawler and others. Judgment of foreclosure and sale under the direction of Daniel B. Deyo granted. Louis S. Coebel of New York city appeared for the plaintiff.

Bridget Catherine Smith and another as administrators against James O. Winston and another. Order for judgment on remittitur from the court of appeals granted. Van Etten & Cook for the plaintiff.

George W. Van Allen against New York Life Insurance and Trust Company and others. Action in partition. Order of reference to John D. Lyons to compute amount due granted.

Kolodkin Improvement Company against H. W. Palen's Sons and James S. Fuller. Order of discontinuance granted. Judge Clearwater appeared for the plaintiff.

Anna Manning against Ellen Callahan, individually and as administratrix. Order for disbursements on report of sale granted. DuBois & McDermott of Albany for the plaintiff.

PARALYSIS CASES NOT REPORTED

Six Found in Rochester and Wawarsing by State Inspector—Visitors Must be Reported Promptly to Health Authorities.

The local board of health is making every effort to suppress an outbreak of infantile paralysis in Kingston, and is urging that all residents clean up around the house and yards, and make every effort to obey the ordinances of the board. In order to see that all ordinances regarding cleanups, the covering of food products and so forth were carried out the board has engaged Charles E. Vogt of South Clinton avenue as a special inspector. He will also watch quarantined houses when necessary. Mr. Vogt took up his new duties this morning.

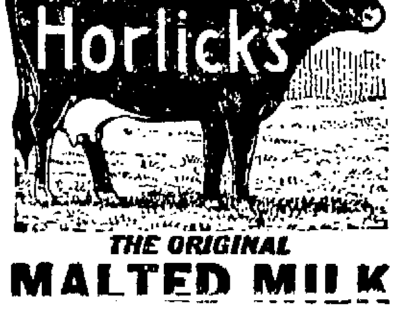

Dr. Johnston, the local health officer, and Dr. Clarke, the sanitary inspector, are working day and night on the infantile paralysis situation. No new cases have been reported, but a suspected case has been found, and is being closely watched.

Any complaints regarding violations of the health board ordinances should be reported to the board between the hours of 9 a. m. and 4 p. m.

The board has information that there are a number of visiting children in Kingston who have not been reported. The fact that the children have a health certificate does not release those who entertain them from reporting their arrival in town promptly to the board. The board will shortly make an investigation and arrests will follow the non-reporting of visiting children. The penalty is a fine not exceeding $50 or six months in jail, or both.

Mrs. Chichester of the state board of health who was in town on Saturday reported to Health Officer Johnston over the telephone Saturday evening that she had spent the day in the towns of Wawarsing and Rochester and had found six cases of infantile paralysis that had not been reported. She reported that the situation in those towns is so bad that she would make a report to the state board urging that a special doctor and nurse be sent from the state department to take charge of the situation in those two towns.

Dr. Johnston understood her to say that all of the cases were in the Hebrew boarding houses in those towns.

LAWS OF NEW YORK—By Authority.
CHAP. 625.

AN ACT to amend the code of civil procedure, in relation to executions against decedent's property.

Became a law May 20, 1916, with the approval of the Governor. Passed, three-fifths being present.

The People of the State of New York, represented in Senate and Assembly, do enact as follows:

Section 1. Section thirteen hundred and eighty of the code of civil procedure is hereby amended to read as follows:

§ 1380. Execution against decedent's property. After the expiration of one year from the death of a party, against whom a final judgment for a sum of money, or directing the payment of a sum of money is rendered, the judgment may be enforced by execution against any property upon which it is a lien with like effect as if the judgment debtor was still living. But such an execution shall not be issued, unless an order granting leave to issue it is procured from the court from which the execution is to be issued, and from a surrogate's court of this state, which has duly granted letters testamentary or letters of administration upon the estate of the deceased judgment debtor. Where the lien of the judgment was created as prescribed in section twelve hundred and fifty-one of this act, neither order can be made until the expiration of eighteen months after letters testamentary or letters of administration have been duly granted upon the estate of the decedent, and for that purpose such a lien existing at the decedent's death continues for two years thereafter, notwithstanding the previous expiration of ten years from the filing of the judgment roll. But where letters upon the estate of the decedent have not been granted within eighteen months after his death by the surrogate's court of the county in which the decedent resided at the time of his death, or if the decedent resided out of the state at the time of his death, and letters testamentary or letters of administration have not been granted within the same time by the surrogate's court of the county in which the property on which the judgment is a lien is situated, such court may grant the order where it appears that the decedent did not leave any personal property within the state upon which to administer. In such case the lien of the judgment existing at the decedent's death continues for two years as aforesaid. Provided, however, that such judgment lien, existing at the decedent's death, upon the decedent's real property, or some portion thereof, may be enforced and payment thereof obtained during the said eighteen months after granting of letters testamentary, or letters of administration, in the manner prescribed by title four of chapter eighteen of this act. But this section shall not apply to real estate which shall have been conveyed, or hereafter may be conveyed by the deceased judgment debtor during his lifetime, if such conveyance was made in fraud of his creditors or any of them, and any judgment creditor of said deceased, against whose judgment said conveyance shall have been, or may hereafter be, declared fraudulent by the judgment and decree of any court of competent jurisdiction, may enforce his said judgment against such real property, with like effect as if the judgment debtor was living, and it shall not be necessary to obtain the leave of any court or officer to issue such execution, and the same may be issued at any time to the sheriff of the county where such property is or may be situated. The person issuing such execution, however, shall annex thereto a description of the real estate against which the same is sought to be enforced, as aforesaid, and shall endorse on said execution the words "issued under section thirteen hundred and eighty of the code of civil procedure," whereupon said sheriff shall enforce said execution as therein directed, against the property so described, and not against any other property, either real or personal, and all provisions of law relating to the sale and conveyance of real estate on execution and the redemption thereof shall apply thereto.

§ 2. This act shall take effect immediately.

AN ACT to amend the agricultural law, in relation to fines and penalties for violations of its provisions.

Became a law May 20, 1916, with the approval of the Governor. Passed, three-fifths being present.

The People of the State of New York, represented in Senate and Assembly, do enact as follows:

Section 1. Article eight of chapter nine of the laws of nineteen hundred and nine, entitled "An act in relation to agriculture constituting chapter one of the consolidated laws," as amended by chapter four hundred and ninety-four of the laws of nineteen hundred and fourteen, is hereby amended by adding at the end thereof a new section, to be section two hundred and two, to read as follows:

§ 202. Penalties. Every person violating any of the provisions of this article, shall forfeit to the people of the state of New York the sum of not less than ten dollars, nor more than one hundred dollars for the first violation and not less than one hundred dollars nor more than two hundred dollars for the second each subsequent violation. When such violation consists of the manufacture or production of any prohibited article, each day during which or any part of which such manufacture or production is carried on or continued, shall be deemed a separate violation. When the violation consists of the sale, or the offering or exposing for sale or exchange of any prohibited article or substance, the sale of each one of several packages shall constitute a separate violation, and each day on which any such article or substance is offered or exposed for sale or exchange shall constitute a separate violation. When the use of any such article or substance is prohibited, each day during which or any part of which said article or substance is so used or furnished for use, shall constitute a separate violation, and the furnishing of the same for use to each person to whom the same may be furnished shall constitute a separate violation. Whoever by himself or another violates any of the provisions of this article shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction shall be punished by a fine of not less than ten dollars, nor more than two hundred dollars, or by imprisonment of not less than one month nor more than six months or by both such fine and imprisonment, for the first offense; and by six months' imprisonment for the second offense.

A penalty of less than fifty dollars shall not be accepted from any person accused of a violation of any provision of this article unless the person paying such penalty shall at the time thereof sign a written statement admitting the violation and acknowledging that the penalty so paid is paid because of such violation.

§ 2. This act shall take effect immediately.

Became a law May 20, 1916, with the approval of the Governor. Passed, three-fifths being present.

The People of the State of New York, represented in Senate and Assembly, do enact as follows:

Section 1. Section twenty-six hundred and sixty-five of the code of civil procedure is hereby amended to read as follows:

§ 2665. Appointment of appraisers and making inventory. On the application of an executor or administrator, an order must be entered in the surrogate's court appointing two disinterested appraisers, as often as may be necessary, to appraise the personal property of a deceased person. The executor or administrator, within three months after qualifying and after giving at least five days' notice personally or by mail to the legatees or next of kin, residing in the county of the decedent, and posting a notice in three public places of the town, or city where he resided, specifying the time and place at which the appraisement will be made, must make a true and perfect inventory of all the personal property of the decedent. Before making the appraisement, the appraisers must take and subscribe an oath, to be inserted in the inventory, that they will truly, honestly and impartially appraise the personal property exhibited to them, according to the best of their knowledge and ability. They must in the presence of such of the parties interested as attend, estimate and appraise the property exhibited to them, and set down each article separately with the value thereof in dollars and cents, distinctly, in figures opposite to the articles respectively.

AN ACT to provide for the construction of an addition or new buildings for the State Normal School at New Paltz, and making an appropriation therefor.

Became a law May 20, 1916, with the approval of the Governor. Passed, three-fifths being present.

The People of the State of New York, represented in Senate and Assembly, do enact as follows:

Section 1. The commissioner of education is hereby authorized to enter into a contract or contracts in an amount not exceeding one hundred and twenty-five thousand dollars for the construction upon lands occupied by the State Normal School at New Paltz, of either an addition to the existing buildings of such school or a new building, which shall contain a normal assembly and study room seating four hundred pupils, an auditorium seating twelve hundred persons, and such number of recitation rooms as he may deem proper to furnish ample accommodations to the pupils at such school, together with closed passageways to connect detached buildings. The plans and specifications for such addition or building shall be prepared by the state architect and approved by such commissioner. The state architect shall supervise the work of construction, heating, lighting and plumbing of such addition or building and shall see that the material furnished and the work performed are in accordance with such plans and specifications. Such addition or building shall be erected as hereinbefore provided, pursuant to a contract or contracts let by the commissioner of education for the whole or any part of the work to be performed, and in his discretion such contracts may be sublet. Upon all proposals for the work of construction, heating, lighting or plumbing a preliminary deposit, in an amount to be determined by the state architect, or a certified check of like amount drawn upon some legally incorporated bank of this state, shall in all cases be required as an evidence of good faith. Such deposit or certified check shall be deposited with the commissioner of education. Such commissioner shall determine to what extent and to what length of time advertisements are to be inserted in newspapers for proposals for the erection of such addition or building or for heating, lighting or plumbing. A copy of all contracts awarded as herein provided shall be filed with the comptroller. All contracts in an amount greater than one thousand dollars shall have the performance thereof secured by sufficient bond or bonds in an amount to be determined by the state architect. Such bond or bonds shall be approved as to form and sufficiency by and filed with the state comptroller. All contracts in an amount less than one thousand dollars need not be secured by bond, provided payment is to be made only after the work is completed and approved. All payments on contracts shall be made upon the certificate of the state architect and the approval of the commissioner of education, upon audit by the comptroller. All original bids or proposals and abstracts thereof shall accompany the copies of the contracts which are filed with the comptroller. Moneys appropriated by this act shall be advanced only as the work progresses or the purchase of material is made, upon bills duly certified, approved and audited.

§ 2. The sum of thirty thousand dollars ($30,000), or so much thereof as may be necessary, is hereby appropriated out of any moneys in the state treasury not otherwise appropriated, to be applied toward carrying into effect the purposes of section one of this act, to be paid out by the state treasurer on the warrant of the comptroller in conformity with the requirements of section one of this act relating to certificates and approval of the state architect and commissioner of education.

AN ACT to provide for the establishment of a fish hatchery in the city of Dunkirk, and making an appropriation therefor.

Became a law May 20, 1916, with the approval of the Governor. Passed, three-fifths being present.

The People of the State of New York, represented in Senate and Assembly, do enact as follows:

Section 1. The conservation commission is hereby authorized and directed to select and purchase lands in the city of Dunkirk, Chautauqua county, for a fish hatchery, for the hatching of or rearing of white-fish, lake trout, herring, blue-pike, and other fish, for the waters of Lake Erie, and for public streams of the state, and for distribution to the public, and to establish such hatchery, and construct on such lands, suitable buildings, fixtures and ponds. Such hatchery, when established, shall be under the management and control of the commission, and subject to its rules and regulations.

§ 2. The sum of thirty-five thousand ($35,000) dollars, or so much thereof as may be necessary, is hereby appropriated out of any moneys in the treasury, not otherwise appropriated, for the purposes set forth in section one of this act, to be paid out by the state treasurer upon the warrant of the comptroller, upon vouchers approved by the chairman of the conservation commission; but no moneys shall be paid out for the purchase of lands, under the provisions of such sections, unless the vouchers therefor, filed with the comptroller are accompanied by the certificate of the attorney-general, approving the title to the lands purchased.

LOCAL DEATH RECORD.

Recent Deaths and Funerals of Persons in This Vicinity.

Edgar G. Whitaker, years ago a dry goods merchant in Saugerties, and a member of the Methodist Church, died at his home in High View, Sullivan county, Friday from old age. A widow, two daughters and a son survive. The body was taken to Saugerties, and the funeral was held there today.

Ella H. Lowe, daughter of Elmer and Margaret Lowe, died on Sunday at her home in Sleightsburgh, aged 28 years. Mr. Lowe is foreman for Cornell Steamboat Company. The funeral will take place from her late residence on First avenue, Sleightsburgh, on Wednesday afternoon at 2::30 o'clock. The interment will be in Wiltwyck cemetery.

Mrs. Ralph Myer died on Friday afternoon at her home on Market street, Saugerties, in the 78th year of her age. She had been ill for five months suffering from a stroke of paralysis. She was a life long resident of Saugerties and a faithful member of the Congregational Church for fifty years. Two daughters survive, Emma and Etta. The funeral was held this afternoon.

The funeral of Milton S. DeWitt was held from his late home at Fantinekill, Ellenville, Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock and was private. The service was in charge of the Rev. W. H. Moser of the M. E. Church, also chaplin of Pioneer Engine Company, of which deceased was a member. A delegation of members represented the company at the funeral and acted as bearers. The body was laid to rest in the family plot in the Fantinekill cemetery.

Leonard C. Wachmeyer died at his home, No. 629 Delaware avenue, at 7:30 o'clock Saturday evening, in his 56th year. He is survived by his wife and two daughters, Hazel a teacher in School No. 4, and Mrs. Ruth Bushnell, also his mother, the widow of George L. Washmeyer, who died two months ago, two brothers, Henry and George and two sisters, Augusta and Elizabeth, wife of William Hiltebrant. The funeral will be held at 2:30 o'clock Tuesday afternoon, the services being in charge of Rev. A. Schmidtkonz, pastor of the Trinity German Luther Church. Interment will be in Montrepose cemetery.

The funeral of Miss Adelia Mackey was held at her late home on Clinton avenue, Ellenville, Saturday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock. There was a large attendance of neighbors and friends. A number of out of town nephews and nieces were in attendance. The service was in charge of the deceased's pastor, the Rev. W. H. Moser, of the M. E. Church. Mrs. Fred Fear and Miss Carolyn Clark, with Mrs. Edward B. Kimble at the organ, sang two beautiful selections, "Some Day" and "Only a Little While." The floral tokens were beautiful. Burial was made in the family plot in the Fantinekill cemetery.

Mrs. Mary W. Myer, widow of Howard Myer, died at her home on the Kingston-Hurley road on Saturday afternoon after a long illness. She was a daughter of Philip Woolsey and during Mr. Myer's lifetime was a resident of Kingston for several years. She is survived by three children, Phillis, Katherine and Howard Myer, and by her father. The funeral took place this afternoon, the service being conducted by the Rev. J. V. Wemple of Saugerties, assisted by the Rev. Dr. J. L. Leeper, pastor of the First Dutch Church, of which Mrs. Myer was a member. The bearers were Matthew T. E. DeWitt, Philip Elting, Joseph M. Schaffer and John Beatty. The interment was in Wiltwyck cemetery.

The funeral of Mrs. Bertha Storman Perrine, widow of Augustus Perrine, who died in the Johnson City Hospital at Binghamton Saturday morning, following an operation some weeks ago, will be held at St. Andrew's Church, Ellenville, Tuesday morning. Mrs. Perrine is the daughter of John Storman of Essex street, Ellenville. She was born and resided in Ellenville until her marriage several years ago, and since has lived out of town. The loss of Mrs. Perrine's husband, whose death followed an operation a few months ago, was so severe a blow it was hard for her to rally after she underwent a serious operation. Deceased was about 38 years of age. Surviving are her father, three brothers, Charles and Andrew, of Ellenville, Fred, of Brooklyn, and four sisters, Mrs. Minters and Mrs. Schweinfest, of Ellenville, Mrs. Marl, out of town and Mrs. Edward Rose of Binghamton. The family have the sympathy of many friends. Burial will be made in the Fantinekill cemetery.

The funeral of Mrs. Barbara Haber, wife of Captain Chris Haber, who is so well known in this city and vicinity, was held from her late home, No. 291 West Chestnut street, this morning at 9 o'clock and from St. Peter's Church at 9:30, where a requiem high mass was offered up for the repose of her soul. The church was filled with a large number of friends who had gathered to pay their respects to the departed one. Mrs. Haber having been an active member of the Society of Christian Mothers of the church, that organization attended the services in a body. In his eulogy Rev. John P. Neumann, the rector of the church, paid a very high tribute to Mrs. Haber, telling of her earnest, devoted and active participation in the work of the church, what a faithful and devoted member she had been all her life, and stated that she had by her faithful living endeared herself to a very large circle of friends who would all mourn her departure, and urged all to do as Mrs. Haber had striven to do, to live an earnest, faithful, Christian life. His sermon was listened to with a great deal of attention by the many persons present, who had gathered to pay their respects to the departed one. There were many floral tributes sent by friends of the deceased. The bearers were all nephews of the deceased, they being Louis, Edward and Nicholas Stock, Jr., and Dr. Harry Meinhardt. Rev. Father Neumann accompanied the body to St. Peter's Cemetery, where it was laid to rest in a blue stone vault. Stock & Cordts had charge of the arrangements.

SOCIETY NOTES.

Smith-Schonger

Miss Edna Mae Schonger, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Schonger, of No. 220 Wall street, and Irving Henry Smith of North Adams, Mass., were united in marriage Saturday afternoon at 5 o'clock in the Church of the Holy Spirit by the Rev. John J. Bott. The attendants were Miss Kathleen Deyo and Clarence Freer. After spending a few weeks in the Berkshires Mr. and Mrs. Smith will reside in Utica, N. Y. They have the well wishes of a host of friends for a long and prosperous married life.

Wolfe-Friedman.

Sunday evening at 7 o'clock Miss Minerva Friedman of this city, and Edward Wolfe, were united in marriage at the Mansion House by the Rev. Dr. Tabloo of Philadelphia. The large dining and reception rooms at the hotel had been artistically decorated with cut flowers and crepe paper streamers to match for the occasion. The bride was charmingly dressed in a gown of white georgette taffeta and and carried a bouquet of bridal roses. The maid of honor was Mrs. L. Wolfe Gilbert, while the best man was L. Wolfe Gilbert, a famous song writer and composer of "Sweet Adair" and a score of other popular songs. The bridesmaids were Miss M. Mufson, Rose Wolfe, C. Friedman, and Mrs. M. Beloff. Following the ceremony a wedding was served in the dining room. Mr. and Mrs. Wolfe will reside on Green street where a handsomely furnished home awaits them. The groom holds a responsible position with the R. H. Hollingshead Company of Camden, N. J. Both he and his bride have the well wishes of a host of friends for a happy and prosperous married life.

MAHAR NOW WEARS THE P. O. G. BADGE

Prudential Insurance officials of the Kingston district were the recipients on Saturday of badges commemorating their period of service with the company, the most notable recognition being a diamond locket presented to District Superintendent John E. Mahar who on that day concluded his twentieth year's connection with the Prudential. More than two score agents from this district and from various points along the river were in the city to join in the celebration.

By virtue of his length of service, Mr. Mahar becomes a "P. O. G.," as members of the "Prudential Old Guard" are known, and his work was made the subject of complimentary comment by Division Manager John P. Mackin of the home office in Newark, N. J. A handsome horseshoe of roses was also presented to Mr. Mahar by his assistants in this district.

Badges were also presented to Agent Arthur Traver of Catskill and to Agents David Weil and C. W. Colclough of Kingston, the last two having completed ten and 15 years respectively, in the company's employ. Speeches were made by Mr. Mackin, F. Quigley of Middletown, and E. Van Wagonen of Poughkeepsie and Frank Shurter of Haverstraw and by each of the agents who received badges of merit. A dinner at the Stuyvesant wound up the social side of the gathering.

AUTO PARTY HAD A NARROW ESCAPE

Sunday afternoon Morris Baker of New York city, a son of S. Baker of this city, had, with four friends, a narrow escape from serious injury or death when the automobile in which they were riding tipped over on the Saugerties road near the Red House, hurling the occupants out and wrecking the car. From what could be learned the automobile was being driven at a fast rate of speed when one of the tires blew out, causing the machine to turn turtle. The five men in the car escaped with slight scratches and a bad shaking up. Mr. Baker was attended by Dr. Norwood, but his injuries were not serious enough to prevent him returning to his home in New York today on the day boat. The wrecked car was towed to the Eagle garage for repairs. It was owned by one of Mr. Baker's friends and the owner was driving at the time of the accident. The other four men were also from New York city. Their name could not be learned.

Value of Simplicity.

HAVE BRITISH CAUGHT BREMEN?

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

London, July 24.—The English admiralty will neither affirm nor contradict a report that the Bremen has been captured.

The foregoing dispatch refers to the German merchant submarine Bremen, whose non-arrival in American waters has caused the Deutschland to delay departure.

FINANCIAL AND COMMERCIAL

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

New York, July 4.—The stock market made a vigorous response to the good bank statement and expectations of a favorable report by the U. S. Steel Corporation at the quarterly meeting tomorrow. Steel Common was in good demand, advancing ¾ to 87½, a new high record for the movement, and was followed by nearly all the minor steel industrials, including Colorado Fuel and Iron, Great Northern Ore and Pressed Steel Car. The latter rose to 50½. Anaconda was the most active of the copper group, rising ⅝ to 80½. The motor stocks were all active and strong, Maxwell Motor being dealt in on an unusually large scale, gaining 2⅜ to 82⅜. Studebaker advanced over a point. American Beet Sugar moved up 1⅝ to 91⅛.

Heavy selling, believed to be for foreign account, was effective in causing sharp declines in many issues in the late forenoon. Alcohol dropped from 111¾ to 108¾ under concentrated selling by several brokers. Steel Common fell from 87⅛ to 86½, American Locomotive from 68 to 66½, and Mexican Petroleum from 101¼ to 98¾. The motor stocks, as a group were weak and lost all their early gains. Weakness also developed in the railway issues and the minor steel industrials. Money loaning at 2¼ per cent.

There was a pronounced falling off in business in the late afternoon. American Beet Sugar, which sold above 91 in the early trading, declined to 89½ and Studebaker dropped to below 127. Marine preferred, after crossing 87 dropped to 85, and then rallied to 86½.

The final tone was irregular. The motor stocks and many of the specialties were weak. Industrial Alcohol rallied over a point, after a ten point decline. International Paper was exceptionally strong, advancing ⅞ to 14¾, the highest price touched in a long period. Fractional losses were sustained in the railway issues. Business wa almost entirely professional. Government bonds unchanged;; railway and other bonds irregular.

Excursion Postponed.

The moonlight sail which was to have been held by the Kingston Local Union of Christian Endeavor on Tuesday evening of this week, has been postponed until a later date, by suggestion of the board of health. The date will be given in the papers. Those who have already purchased tickets for this sail will kindly bear this in mind.

MATTERS BEFORE THE SURROGATE

The will of Christian Ortleib of this city has been admitted to probate in the surrogate's court. The testator gives his estate to his wife, Sarah Ortleib, and appoints her executrix. The will was executed March 29, 1916, and witnessed by Patrick H. Cullen and Frederick Stephan, Jr. The value of the real estate is $1,000 and the personal property amounts to $625. Frederick Stephan, Jr., appeared for the executrix.

In the estate of Orlando DuBois of the town of New Paltz, an order was granted declaring the estate exempt from tax under the provisions of the taxable transfer act. J. N. & J. H. Vanderlyn appeared for Ira Decker, the administrator with the will annexed.

ODDS AND ENDS.

The Kingston City Library will be closed on Friday and Saturday, July 28 and 29, so that necessary cleaning may be done.

THE JOINERS.

News of Interest to Members of Fraternal Societies.

The following lodges hold regular meetings this evening:

Kingston Encampment, No. 126, I. O. O. F., in Odd Fellows' Hall, 63b Broadway.

Bricklayers' and Masons' Union, No. 14, at the city hall.

Summer Boys' Dance.

Evergreen Park will be the scene of a pretty dance on Wednesday evening, when the Summer Boys, a recently formed organization, will hold a summer ball and festival there. The large dance hall at the park has been handsomely decorated for the occasion and an unusually large attendance is expected to be present, as there has been a large sale of tickets for the event. McLean's orchestra has been contracted for, and they will also play at every Wednesday and Saturday evening dance during the summer. This well known orchestra has been making a hit at the Oriental dance hall at the Point and the many who attend the dances at Evergreen Park are assured of the best in the musical line. Stages will be run to Evergreen Park to accommodate the large crowd who generally attend from this city.

Chain Letters Not Authorized.

Word has been received in this city of chain letters being sent to various persons here for the benefit of the German Red Cross, and the local chairman was asked whether or no any such letters had been authorized by the Red Cross. Inquiry at Washington brought out the information that the "American Red Cross has not sanctioned or authorized any chain letters, but it does not believe it could prevent any one from distributing chain letters for the purpose of raising relief funds, even if such letters include the statement that the proceeds will be transmitted through the American Red Cross." In concluding, the letter further says, "It is noted that the Ulster County Chapter is well organized and doing excellent work, which, I assure you, is appreciated.

Find Foe of the Locust.

Research by the Argentine department of agriculture has shown that a natural parasite enemy of the locust exists, and the department has recommended that the National Institute of Bacteriology and the section of applied zoology of the live stock bureau co-operate in a study and application of the best means to propagate this parasite as the most effective way of checking the ravages of locusts. The sum of 500,000 paper pesos ($212,300) has been appropriated for use in the campaign against locusts.

Round and Round.

You put out the cat the last thing each night and next morning she is patiently waiting to come in to be put out again at night. And so on and on like the never ending roll of the River Oregon. You may outlive this particular cat, but there will always be other cats just as particular. You cannot outlive the entire cat crop. There will ever be more of the cats than there are of you. Long after you are gone there will be cats to put out and let in and put out. So, after all, what is the use?—Kansas City Star.

Even Germs Obey Laws of Gravity.

The influence of gravity upon bacteria in the air may be observed in various ways, in addition to its action within a limited area like a sewer or a room. Miquel found in some investigations in Paris that whereas on the Rue de Rivoli 750 germs were present in a cubic meter yet at the summit of the Pantheon only 28 were found in the same quantity of air.

Pointing Out a Difference.

Dean Hole, who was the pioneer of rose shows in his country, was fond of telling this story: "At Cambridge, England, a horticultural show was suddenly invaded by a heavenly host of sweet girl graduates. 'Madam,' said a member of the executive to the lady in whose charge they came, 'may I point out that this is a school for horticulture and not for husbandry?'"

STATE MAY USE COUNTY LABORATORY

According to an Albany dispatch three temporary state laboratories will be established if the present plans in the campaign against infantile paralysis are carried by the state health department and one of these institutions will probably be at Kingston, the other two being at Long Island points.

It is understood that the latter two laboratories will be placed in the centers most affected by the spread of the disease but that the selection of Kingston is chiefly due to its accessibility from all points of the Hudson valley and also to the fact that in this city Ulster county maintains a well-equipped county laboratory in charge of a competent bacteriologist, Dr. Raymond Sanderson. Examination of the spinal fluid could be made in suspected cases at this laboratory and a correct diagnosis thus obtained.

It is believed, too, that the exodus of so many New York children into the Catskills for the vacation season had something to do with the selection of Kingston which is the key to the Catskill mountain resort section.

COUNTY HIGHWAY BIDS ARE ASKED

Bids for the construction of three Ulster county highways will be opened by the State Highway Department, and contracts awarded, during the month of August, as follows:

August 14—County Highway No. 1,417—Wallkill-Newburgh, Part 1; distance, 3.12 miles. To be constructed of bituminous macadam.

August 15—County Highway No. 1,418—Milton Landing-Milton; distance, 0.55 of a mile. To be constructed of concrete and stone block.

August 18—County Highway No. 1,419—Rosendale village; distance, 3.17 miles. This is to be a water-bound and concrete pavement.

MENKE'S DAILY SPORTING LETTER

(By Franke G. Menke).

New York, July 24.—The boys who play the favorites on the New York race tracks are weeping, gnashing their molars, tearing their thatches and otherwise registering anguish. The favorites are not coming home in front with a degree of consistency. As a result, there is woe hereabouts.

The way in which the so-called "class" horses have been beaten by the "truckers" has begun to appal the professioanl gamblers who play favorites—and nothing else. Their once plump bank rolls have shriveled away like a slab of ice in the July sunlight.

Over a week's stretch, involving three days at Aqueduct and three at the Empire track, outsiders won 22 out of the 36 races that were run. In nine of the 14 combats, in which the favorites were victorious, the winning horses was odds-on; meaning that the collections for the "profs" in these affairs were very small, indeed.

One professional told us that that "ill-fated week" had cost him $1,300.

"I plunged $100 on every race" he said. "That meant an outlay of $3,600 for the week. I got back a profit of exactly $900 for winning the 14 bets, plus my $1,400 bet on those 14 races. Altogether, $2,300 was returned to me against my original outlay of $3,600, meaning that I lost $1,300 on the week, although I picked 14 winners out of 36: Oi, yoi!"

High Noon Costly Favorite.

High Noon, the great James Butler sprinter, continues to be the chute through which the "wise ones" have been dropping huge bankrolls. A sensation last year, High Noon is unable to do anything even ordinary this season.

In practically all of the races in which he has been entered, High Noon has been made the favorite. But the fast thoroughbred has "dumped" his backers on almost every occasion this year by his failure to romp in ahead. Second place is the best he seems to do.

No horse can get away from the post faster than High Noon, nor can any runner match his great stride for the first three or four furlongs. But then High Noon seems to sluff away and one or the other of the stretch runners breeze along, overtake him and lead him to the finish line.

After High Noon, played from one end of the track to the other, a week or so ago, was beaten out by He Will, the gambling element raised its right mitt and murmured "Never again."

No Standard Price.

"Shopping" for odds is now one of the popular outdoor sports at the New York tracks. Different "layers" offer different prices. There is no uniformity in wagering. One "layer" may offer 5 to 1 against a horse; the next may make it 3 to 1 or 8 to 1, according to his own particular ideas.

The tendency of the small "layer" however is to offer odds much lower than the big men lay. That has been shown on repeated occasions. One instance was the case of Carlton G., which won at the Empire track in a 15 horse field. The small layers offered an average of 6 to 1 against the horse while the big fellows laid making it 10 and 15 to 1. On all the other horses in the field the small fellow prices were from 20 to 50 per cent smaller than those of the big boys.

And so the hoi polloi, before placing bets with its own "layers" these days, wanders around, gets the consensus of the prevailing odds and then force its own layer to meet those price, under penalty of losing its business.

Touts Have Disappeared.

Touts are unknown on the New York tracks these days! In the other era, when betting was a la bookie and conducted in the open, the woods were full of them. But they seem to have quit business permanently when the ponies were ruled out of the state some years ago.

Touting, under present betting conditions, sizes up as a rather difficult task. No one can absolutely spot the man who is going to do his wagering until he has made his bet. The bettor shrouds his moves and a tout, therefore, would have quite a job picking up a "victim" for his "sure thing" tips

Close Church For Repairs.

The First Reformed Church during the vacation of the pastor, Dr. J. L Leeper, will be closed for repairs on Sundays, July 30 and August 6 and 13. The Rev. Walter Steiner of Mt. Kisco, N. Y., will preach on August 20 and the Rev. William Vandervoort Berg of Philadelphia will preach on August 27. The church will be closed to other services until permission is allowed for opening by the board of health except that the regular mid-week meeting will be held in connection with the Fair Street Church, notices of which will appear from time to time.

More Important to Him.

A certain contractor who was noted for his meanness undertook the widening of a railway. During the progress of the work news reached him of a serious landslip. Hastening to the spot he found that a huge mass of the embankment had fallen into a newly formed cutting, and all was confusion.

The cry went up, "Count the men; count the men!"

"Count the men be hanged!" cried the thrifty contractor "Count the wheelbarrows!"—London Answers.

Unnecessary.

She—I really don't see why, either. You certainly acquire plenty of new ones every day.—Richmond Times-Dispatch.

MYSTICS LOSE TO KINGSTON POINT

The newly organized Kingston Point baseball team won their first game of the season by defeating the fast Mystic nine Sunday afternoon at Hutton's park by a score of 6-4. The Mystics scored one in the first, but the Park representatives came back in the second frame and tied it up. They also manufactured three more tallies of the Mystic moundsman in the third, mostly through the efforts of "Dolly" Newman, who poled a double with the bases full. It was certainly some swat and very timely. The uptowners took two more runs in round five and tightened things up a little, but the Point team soon pulled away with two more in the sixth. Doyle, the Mystic twirler, was yanked out in that inning and McAuliffe substituted him. He was greeted by Luby, first man up, with a hot single through short. "Mac" then filled the bases and forced the two runs. But he finally settled down and held the K. P. T. scoreless for the remainder of the contest, while his team mates scored the last run in the ninth. Tierney and Luby, the Point's team battery, put up a good exhibition, Tierney working his fast one to perfection. The whole team gave him splendid support. G. Moxham starred in the field, while D. Moxham, the giant first baseman, played the game of his life. The Mystics put up a hard fight, but defeat was surely to be handed to them. The teams lined up as follows: Mystic A. C.—Hartman, lf; Joyce, cf; T. Doyle, rf; Roche, 3b; Rourke, ss; McCann, 2b; Russell, 1b; J. Doyle and McAuliffe, pitchers; McMahan, catcher.

The Kingston Points—G. Moxham, lf; V. Redden, cf; Fitzgerald, rf; Neuman, 3b; Soper, ss; Halilnan, 2b; D. Moxham, 1b; Tierney, p; Luby, catcher. The score by innings:

Mystics	1	0	0	0	2	0	0	0	1	—4
K. P. T.	0	1	3	0	0	2	0	0	*	—6

Hot Liners.

(By Frank G. Menke.)

Matty's Reds chalked up another defeat. But then few teams can beat Alexander the Great.

Miner Brown proved the same enigma to the Giants he always has been. They were easy for the three-fingered flinger.

Those perky Boston teams are trying their best to prevent a pennant coming to Greater New York. Both the Red Sox and Braves are closely trailing the leading Yankees and Dodgers.

The Braves turned on the Cardinals in the final game but it was only Rudolph's good pitching that enabled his team mates to win.

Nine pitchers were used in the weird exhibition by the White Sox and Tigers, the spotless hosiery crew winning out.

Freddie Welsh is taking an awful chance this week in facing Benny Leonard. But then there are few fighters who can knock the champion in ten rounds.

The Indians lost in ten innings to the Browns.

The fourth clash between the east and west will start tomorrow. Some upsets are looked for.

BOARDING-HOUSE MIX-UP.

Sullivan County Deal With Many Complications Heard in Court.

A Sullivan county boarding house business deal that failed of consummation resulted in application being made to Judge Hasbrouck on Saturday for the appointment of a receiver in the case of Mrs. Gussie Berkowitz and Herman Levine against Abraham Lislizky. John D. Lyons appeared for the plaintiffs and the motion; Ellsworth Baker appeared for Stanislus N. Tuckerman of New York city, attorney for the defendant.

The defendant is a farmer who owns a large boarding house in which he and his family reside. The plaintiffs agreed to rent it for the summer season and to board Lislizky and his family. They were to pay him $725 for the season for the house and its furnishings, and pay $50 on account. For three or four days after the house had opened the plaintiffs absented themselves and Lislizky and his family took care of the boarders. When the plaintiffs returned to the house he put them out. Then they sued him, claiming there was a co-partnership, and asked for an accounting. They desired the appointment of a receiver in order that Lislizsky might not dispose of the house or its furniture, as they believed he was contemplating such a move.

On Lislizky's behalf it was urged that he was a man of means and if he had an opportunity to sell out at a good price he should not be prevented from doing so. He was willing to give a bond, which Judge Hasbrouck fixed at $800.

Tuberculosis Deadly.

In a modern battle 100,000 men may be killed and wounded, but the tubercle bacillus slaughters 147,000 of our citizens yearly, and 1,500,000 remain infected, the greater number of whom will die of tuberculosis.

Courtesy

Courtesy is a coin of which the more we spend the more we receive.

The John Wanamaker Store

opens the August Sale of Furniture with five Days of Courtesy, beginning Tuesday, July 25, knowing that the more we give to our customers in extra time and value the more we receive in good-will and patronage.

The August Sale is built on this kind of courtesy—on mutuality, on cooperation. We give more in the value of the furniture during August, and in return we receive our largest month's business. This is what makes the August Sale so rich in its economies, its advantages, its opportunities.

On these Days of Courtesy selections may be made at August prices, purchases to date as of August 1, and deliveries to be made as desired.

He Was Practical.

"Young gentleman," said the lecturer in chemistry, "coal exposed to the elements loses 10 per cent of its weight and power. This is due to the action of the alkali constituents of—"

"But what if there is a dog sleeping near the coal, professor?"

"None of your levity, young man. This is a serious matter."

"That's what dad thought when 72 per cent of his coal supply disappeared during three nights of exposure. Then he asked my advice, as a student in chemistry, and I told him to buy a dog. He bought a dog, with large sized teeth, and now we don't lose 1 per cent of our coal a month. That's practical chemistry."

Life Chances at Forty-five Good.

It may astonish you to know that if you are forty-five years old you have a better chance to live ten years longer than you had of living ten years when you were only twenty-five years old.

From a great life insurance company I have the mortality figures for 100 healthy men at twenty-five. In the first decade after that age five of the 100 die. In the second decade, or from thirty-five to forty-five years old, eleven die, showing that to be a critical period in human existence.

Between forty-five and fifty-five four pass out, while in the subsequent decade sixteen fall. Of the little army of 100 there still remain thirty-seven at the age of seventy-five.—Exchange.

War and Art.

"Suppose Napoleon had been fighting under modern conditions," remarked the theorist. "Do you think he would have escaped defeat?"

"That is rather hard to say," answered the connoisseur, "but for the sake of art I'm glad he lived when he did."

"Yes?"

"Think of the splendid battle pictures we now have in our art galleries, depicting incidents of Napoleon's campaigns, and imagine what sort of work an artist would have done had he attempted to paint Napoleon telephoning to the front or Napoleon in his dugout."—Brooklyn Citizen.
